A Mayfair Notebook

By Philine

Mayfair has recently discovered that a young woman may be a very important person if her age is anything between seventeen and twenty-seven. For then she is eligible for that Secret Society of Youth—the Junior Committee.

Officially, it is the work of this committee to help in the organisation of balls in aid of charities. But work is not its only attraction. A room of the most entertaining parties in London is assured to the debutante who is lucky enough to become a member. Her name is automatically added to the invitation list of every important hostess.

Charmed Age Of 27

Society women who are still young but nevertheless over that charmed age of twenty-seven, feel a little resentful that the highly prized membership of this Secret Society of Youth is barred to them.

Indignant mothers have been known to offer donations to charity funds so that their daughters may not bear the stigma of being excluded from the coveted circle. But of no avail. Young Mayfair is stern and constitutional.

Expensive Bridesmaids

Some girls seem to make a hobby of being bridesmaids at their friends' weddings. But it is an expensive hobby—for the bridesmaid's parents! One popular young lady who has attended no fewer than seven Society brides during the past few weeks told me that altogether it had cost her nearly £150.

Even the most generous dress allowance becomes sadly depleted when you have to pay anything from 10 to 20 guineas for a bridesmaid's frock, four or five guineas for a picture hat, and several more pounds for shoes, stockings, gloves, and other accessories. And, of course, the bridesmaid cannot use the same frock twice, for she usually has to dress in keeping with the other attendants.

Paler Complexions

Englishwomen are to be paler this winter. The change has nothing to do with the passing of the sunny months; it is purely a question of fashion in make-up. A Bond Street beauty expert tells me that her clients have turned against the once so popular coral, orange and tangerine shades of powder, rouge and lipstick. Rose tints are now in demand.

One debutante is crying out that she is not pale enough, and she is setting a new fashion for an almost white powder, no rouge, and only a hint of lipstick. Perhaps we shall go back to nature before long, and dispense with make-up altogether.

Royal Children

The Duchess of York has proved herself, once again, a most admirable mother and the new domestic law which she has introduced into her Epsom household set an example to parents of celebrated children the world over. Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret are tremendous favourites with the British public, and from their cradles they have written about and photographed more than any other children.

The Duchess's Rule

Her Royal Highness very wisely feels that so much admiring publicity cannot be good for the young Princesses. So she has made it a rule that none of their childish remarks shall be repeated outside their home. Anyone who meets them has to give an undertaking not to describe anything they do or say, even to personal friends. Dancing teachers, dress-makers and governesses, as well as private visitors, are asked to observe this rule.

The early and impressionable years of many a young life might be happier if every mother took this Royal lesson to heart. A spoiled child, surrounded by admiring friends and relatives who hang upon her youthful whimsies, too often develops into a vain and petted woman.

Chaperones Again

I am often surprised by the queer little reveries to Victorianism which modern manners decree. For instance, youthful independence is the keynote of the day, and you might expect the idea of chaperonage to be laughed at by the young lady of 1933. Yet I have never seen debutantes so assiduously chaperoned as they are just now.

Formerly a dinner hostess, entertaining a party of young friends, was considered a sufficient chaperone for the evening. But now mothers are expected to attend the dance and escort their daughters home. At a party last week I actually heard a girl ask her mother if she might powder her nose—and permission was refused!

Dresses of Glass!

The very newest frock which comes from Paris, is made of glass—exactly the same glass as is used for windows and tableware. It is non-transparent, and the finest possible strands of it are woven together to make a material which looks rather like a heavy glazed satin.

London's first glass gown, displayed to a few select visitors in a Mayfair salon recently, had a wide skirt which stood out stiffly round the mannequin's legs. It was no heavier than an ordinary dress, and made a delicate swishing sound as the wearer moved.

"Undies" £50 a Set

Glass lingerie is promised next from Paris. It is made in many pastel colours, as well as in the natural crystal white. French modistes declare that glass wears well, and can be as easily cleaned as a window. But however long it wears, it can scarcely be called economical, for these glass undies are priced at £50 a set.

The King's Clocks

Those firms which have a contract to maintain clocks in the Royal residences will have a strenuous week-end in October, when Summer Time ends. In Buckingham Palace alone there are about 180 clocks and at Sandringham 150—and the hands of all of them will have to be moved back.

Everywhere else in Britain clocks will be set back an hour—but Sandringham's 150 timepieces will lose only half an hour. This is because the clocks at the King's Norfolk home are always kept half an hour fast in winter. King Edward inaugurated the custom, so that he might have another thirty minutes of daylight for shooting.

There is one clock which the King always alters with his own hands. This is his little desk clock. It accompanies him everywhere he goes, and has been in his possession for many years.

Painting Parties

A novel idea for entertaining your guests is the Painting Party. The hostess supplies everyone with brush, paintbox and paper, and offers a prize for the best result. This competition is ideally suited to week-end house parties, where guests often find time hanging a little heavily on their hands. But a drawing or (more amusing) a caricature contest can easily be arranged for an afternoon or evening party.

One London hostess who adopted this new idea got Sir John Lavery, Lord Dunsany and several other artists and experts to judge the amateur paintings and award the prize.

"Romantic" Hairdressing. If the experts' word is the truth, we are in for a season of "romantic" hairdressing styles. The shingle and the Eton crop, we are told, belonged to the unromantic post-war period. Now debutantes and their young sisters are being encouraged to wear flowers in their hair, in the truly romantic fashion. And the flowers are attached to shoulder-length curls.

At one hairdressing salon I visited recently the younger women were allowed no waves on the top of their heads, the only wave being just over the ears. For older women this coiffure suggested that curls of hair should be massed on top of the head in Burmese fashion.

U.S. BUY-NOW CAMPAIGN

Now Again In Full Swing

New York, Oct. 9. The N.I.R.A. effort to start the prosperity drive moving forward again is now in full swing.

Its slogan, "Now Is The Time To Buy," is given great prominence in newspaper advertisements throughout the country. General Johnson warns the public that the higher payrolls achieved as a result of the Industrial Codes cannot be maintained and that new jobs cannot be created unless every consumer does his part.

Apparently in response to President Roosevelt's personal appeal, half the seventy-five thousand miners who have been on strike, returned to the pits to-day, according to the estimate of the United Mine Workers of America. The others are still holding out. —Reuter.

"DOUBLE TENTH" IN LONDON

Celebrations At China House

London, Oct. 10. SIXTY Chinese students and numerous British friends packed China House to-day at an informal tea party held in celebration of the anniversary of the Republic.

The guests were received by Mr. Su Lee Chang, the warder of China House.

The celebrations will conclude to-night with a dance at the Hambone Club.—Reuter.

RIOTS IN VIENNA

Police Charges in City

Vienna, Oct. 10. SERIOUS riots have broken out at Ottakring, the working-class suburb of Vienna, following a Socialist demonstration of protest against the Government's ban on the "Arbeiter Zeitung."

High indignation in Socialist circles at the action has led to threat of a general strike, but the leaders are at present undecided.

The rank and file, however, took matters into their own hands last night and serious disturbances occurred.

Mounted police charged the demonstrators, injuring several and making many arrests before peace was restored.

Bridges Guarded

Extra police have now been drafted into other working-class districts of Vienna as a precautionary measure in consequence of further demonstrations, while all entrances to the city bridges over the Danube are heavily guarded by police.—Reuter.

PINK AND WHITE TOFFEE BALLS

Ingredients:—1 lb. loaf sugar, 1 teacup water, 1 table-spoon white vinegar, few drops vanilla, red colouring.

Method:—Measure loaf sugar and cold into a small deep pan. Set it over a very slow fire to melt; this is important. When the sugar is quite melted, wash the sides of the pan with a wet rag or brush. put on the lid, and increase the heat under the pan until contents boil and a good deal of the steam is escaping.

Have ready at hand a small bowl with water as cold as possible. Boil the toffee till a drop or two tested in cold water firms at once into a hard ball. Add vinegar and vanilla, stir once only, and pour contents of pan on to a wet marble slab, enamel dish. As it cools, with buttered fingers hold up the sides toward the centre very quickly. To pull the toffee, divide it in two, and with buttered fingers pull out the pieces as long as possible. Hold up and repeat the process until it turns white. Now streak here and there with red colouring. Cut off little pieces with sharp scissors, and roll into balls. Whenever the balls turn hard, toss them in castor sugar and store in an air-light bottle.

SKIN FOOD AND SKIN TONICS

Recently I told you about cleansing cream. I explained that in addition to your soap and water wash you should use a cleansing cream which penetrates down into the pores of the skin and removes every scrap of dirt in a way that all the soap and water in the world cannot do.

I warned you that when you buy your cleansing cream you must be certain that it says "Cleansing Cream" on the jar, as a great many people think that an ordinary cold cream will do, which is wrong. And now I want to talk to you about Skin Tonics and Skin Food. Skin tonic is the next step after cleansing cream. It is a lotion which is made of the very simplest ingredients:

Orange-flower and rose-water, Tincture of benzoin, and Glycerine.

which are all beneficial to the skin. Orange-flower and rose-water soothe and slightly bleach; tincture of benzoin is astringent, and prevents the pores of your skin from getting coarse or greasy and keeps the skin firm and youthful. Glycerine is softening.

Every skin, even the driest, should be wiped over with a clean pad of cotton-wool which has been dipped in a skin tonic; after the cleansing cream has been wiped off with a face tissue. Dip the cotton-wool in cold water first, before soaking it in tonic. This saves using too much tonic.

If your skin is greasy the tonic should be allowed to dry into the skin. If your skin is dry and sensitive, another dry piece of cotton-wool or a clean face tissue should be gently wiped over the face to dry it thoroughly.

There are many excellent skin tonics to be bought, or if you like to make your own beauty preparations, here is a very good recipe of one you could easily make for yourself. Buy the following ingredients from your chemist, and mix them in the order given:

Orange-flower water ... 2 ounces.
Zinc sulphur carbolate 30 grains.

Cologne water 4 drachms
Glycerine 2 drachms
Tincture of cochineal 1 drachm
Rose-water to make up 6 ounces
If you don't want to bother with the mixing, hand the recipe to the chemist and he will make it up for you for a few pence.

Should your skin be dry, and you feel that it wants nothing astringent, use plain rose-water or orange-flower water only. Remember to use a clean piece of cotton-wool each time you use the tonic, as nothing soiled should ever be used on the face.

And now, having thoroughly cleaned up the skin with cleansing cream, wiped it off with one or two face tissues, and finally "rinsed" and freshened it up with tonic, we will take our next step—skin food.

Here, again, every skin needs skin food, the ingredients of which are such wholesome things as:

Olive-oil,
Lanoline,
White wax,
Spermaceti,

all of which stimulate, feed, remove redness, soothe and soften.

If your skin is very dry you should apply skin food at night, after thoroughly cleansing the skin, and leave it on until morning. It can also be used very sparingly as a foundation for your powder, but if your skin is excessively dry or if you have neglected these tiny wrinkles until they have become proper lines you should smear on a film of slightly warm olive oil over your skin food.

In the morning dip a piece of cotton-wool in skin tonic and with this very thoroughly remove all grease. If your skin is inclined to grow, simply apply skin food at night, three times a week, and leave on until ready for bed, then wipe off, finishing with a brisk patting with cotton-wool dipped in astringent. But even if your skin is greasy inclined you will be wise to leave a thin layer of skin food round your eyes until morning, because this is where the first tell-tale lines of age always appear.

10 RULES FOR HEALTH

(As Practised By Irene Vanbrugh)

My commandments for health are dictated by common sense and experience, and contain nothing very arduous or sensational.

1. I drink plenty of liquid between meals, and find a glass of sherry before lunch or dinner particularly refreshing.

2. I never drink with meals.

3. I eat only when I feel the need for food—never because the usual time has arrived.

4. Meat figures very little in my diet, which is as light as possible and contains no stodgy puddings.

5. My main meal is in the middle of the day, on account of my work, and I always try to get an hour's rest immediately after it.

6. I believe in taking some exercise every day, mainly walking, but I never do "physical jerks" of skipping.

7. Work is my principal means of keeping fit. If you work really hard you do not have time to indulge in a variety of fancy ailments.

8. Solitude is a wonderful means of counteracting the stress of modern life. I try each day to keep a certain time for complete privacy and freedom from conversation.

9. This rule I regard as the most important. When a decision has to be made, I may worry and fuss about it beforehand but once it is made I make myself stick to it. Fretting about mistakes which can not be remedied does no good and is ruinous to mental health.

10. This is the "rule of the old philosopher." "Know thyself." An understanding of your capabilities and limitations is essential in bodily as well as mental things.

LUNCHEON SALAD

Drain twelve canned pear halves and chill. Mix together one-half cup grated soft yellow cheese and one-fourth cup chopped nuts and add mayonnaise to make a paste. Put two pear halves together with the cheese mixture, tucking a whole maraschino cherry in each. Roll stuffed pears in mayonnaise and then in moist coconut, covering thickly. Serve in a nest of lettuce. Serves six.

USE BEET TOPS

Beet top greens have the same valuable health qualities as spinach, for beet tops are rich in iron, calcium and certain vitamins.

Some facts about Baby's milk that every mother
should know

THE purity of the dairy milk used in Baby's diet is of vital importance—but consistent quality is important too. Dairy milk varies in composition according to the district in which it is produced and milk that varies is not good for Baby's digestion. Devonshire milk is richest in the nourishing elements that Baby needs.

That is why "Ambrosia" is such a blessing. It is Devonshire milk exclusively, purified and dried in Devonshire itself as soon as it comes from the cows, by a unique process that retains the important vitamins. The quality of "Ambrosia" never varies and it is many times purer and more digestible than any liquid milk you can buy. For these reasons "Ambrosia" is extensively used and recommended by Hospitals, Clinics and Doctors. It is the ideal Milk Food for Expectant Mothers, Nursing Mothers and Infant feeding.

MORE PARSLEY INTO MENUS

Parsley has long been one of the most attractive and popular garnishes but now home-makers are looking for ways to work it into their menus.

Parsley butter for fish and potatoes and parsley sauce for almost any vegetable provide excellent means of adding iron to the diet.

AS A SANDWICH SPREAD

Parsley butter as a sandwich spread is an unusual way of using this savory herb. Wash parsley and pat dry between towels. Mince finely and combine one-half cup minced parsley with four tablespoons creamed butter. Add a few grains of salt and a little lemon juice if extra piquancy is needed. Spread on thin slices of whole wheat or white bread and garnish each sandwich with a tiny sprig of crisp parsley. These sandwiches are especially delectable with a chicken or fish salad.

A parsley sauce is a decided improvement for both veal and fish. Make a plain white sauce with milk or use half milk and half veal or fish stock. Just before serving add two or more tablespoons minced parsley. Serve at once because the parsley loses its bright green color if allowed to stand or boil in the sauce.

GOOD FOR CHILDREN

Little children may have minced parsley added to their baked potato and sprinkled over their soup. When it is used as a garnish be sure that it is carefully washed and crisped and encouraged children in the habit of eating it.

CHOCOLATE WAFERS MAKE GOOD CRUST

For a change from graham cracker crust, crush chocolate wafers and combine them with butter and brown sugar in the same proportions used for the graham cracker crust.

SALADS

BIRDS' NEST SALAD

(Made With Cheese)

INGREDIENTS:—

Lettuce leaves,
French dressing,
St. Ivel cheese.

Divide the cheese into tiny portions and shape them into egg shapes.

Cleanse the lettuce leaves, drain them well and shake off the loose moisture. Dress them with French dressing and arrange a few eggs on each leaf.

The eggs look more attractive if smeared with a little coloring.

TOMATO CUPS

INGREDIENTS:—

6 medium sized tomatoes,
1 tablespoonful cooked green peas,
1 tablespoonful diced cooked carrot,
1 tablespoonful diced cooked potato,
About 1 dessertspoonful mayonnaise.

Seasoning,
Mustard,
Choose firm tomatoes, wipe them, remove the stalks, and cut a small slice from the opposite end of each. Scoop out some of the soft pulp and season the inside of the tomatoes with pepper and salt.

Mix the cold, cooked vegetable together, add the mayonnaise and about two tablespoonfuls of the tomato pulp. Season them well and divide the vegetables between the tomatoes.

Garnish the top with a few extra peas and diced vegetables, and serve the tomato cups in a dish garnished with green mustard.

FRENCH DRESSING

INGREDIENTS:—

2 or 3 tablespoonfuls salad oil,
2 dessertspoonful plain vinegar,
1 dessertspoonful Tarragon vinegar.

Salt and pepper.
Mixed mustard.
Put the salad oil on a plate, add the vinegars and a seasoning of salt, pepper and mixed mustard, and stir them till thoroughly mixed.

Remember to use only the best vinegar and oil for making salad dressings. If Tarragon vinegar is not to hand, you can use two dessertspoonfuls of plain vinegar, but the former improves the flavour of the dressing.

Blend 1 cup peanut butter and 4 tablespoons chili sauce, and spread between thin slices of buttered whole wheat bread.

SURPRISES

Some Interesting Eatables

Plain things beautifully treated might be taken as an axiom in the culinary world. There is another surprise rather in accessories than in the main object. Orange salad, not only with wild duck but with any sort of duck, is a welcome addition to the menu. Just now when rather sour oranges are on the market, they can be turned to account to act as astringent to the father forms of food. The orange should be cut up and every trace of skin removed. It should then be lightly sprinkled with sifted sugar. When this has been absorbed, a little kirsch or a touch of brandy finishes the salad.

Another way of treating café au lait has advantages. Strong coffee well diluted with milk is better than weaker coffee with less milk. Half a teacup of strong coffee can be mixed with half a teacup of hot milk. Before mixing, the milk can be whipped, as though it were cream—while it is being heated, for preference, so that it has no chance of getting cold. This provides a delicious, foaming cup of café au lait.

Baked apples are looked upon chiefly as the food of health. This is because they are usually treated in a dull way. Large apples should be taken and completely cored, preferably without a hole at the lower end. In addition, a line may be drawn with a knife round the waist of the apple, which prevents it from bursting its skin. Brown sugar and butter can be used to fill up the hole and more sugar and butter may be placed in a little water in which the apple stands. When the cut round the waist begins to rise, the apple is usually in a fluffy, delicious state and ready for eating. Another method is to stuff the hole full of seedless raisins and sugar mixed. This presents the surprise.

FOR EVENING WEAR

A little skull cap of black velvet shirred latex and gloves to match are handsome accessories for a white evening gown. They are the kind of little hats which will make you want to keep them on during the whole evening. And there's no danger of them slipping off—the latex holds them fast.

SCOTCH HAM LOAF

1 1/2 cups finely chopped, boiled ham; 1 cup breadcrumbs; 1 teaspoon paprika; 2 grated onions; 1 cup white sauce; 1 tablespoon Worcester sauce; 1/4 cups cold, boiled oatmeal. Mix together, the finely chopped ham, oatmeal and grated onions. Add paprika, breadcrumbs, white sauce and Worcester sauce. Mix all well together, and pour into a well greased loaf-shaped pan. Place in a saucepan containing warm water. Bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven, then serve hot, with tomato sauce.

TOMATO SAUCE

Take a quart of tomatoes, put over the fire in a stewpan, put in one slice of onion and two cloves. A little pepper and a teaspoon of lard remove from the fire and strain it through a sieve. Now melt in another pan two tablespoonfuls of butter, and as it melts sprinkle in a tablespoonful of flour. Stir it until it browns and froths a little. Mix the tomato pulp with it and it is ready for table.

Excellent for mutton chops, roast beef, etc. Enough to serve eight persons.

COCONUT PIE

Two eggs, 2 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup grated coconut, 1 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, few grains salt.

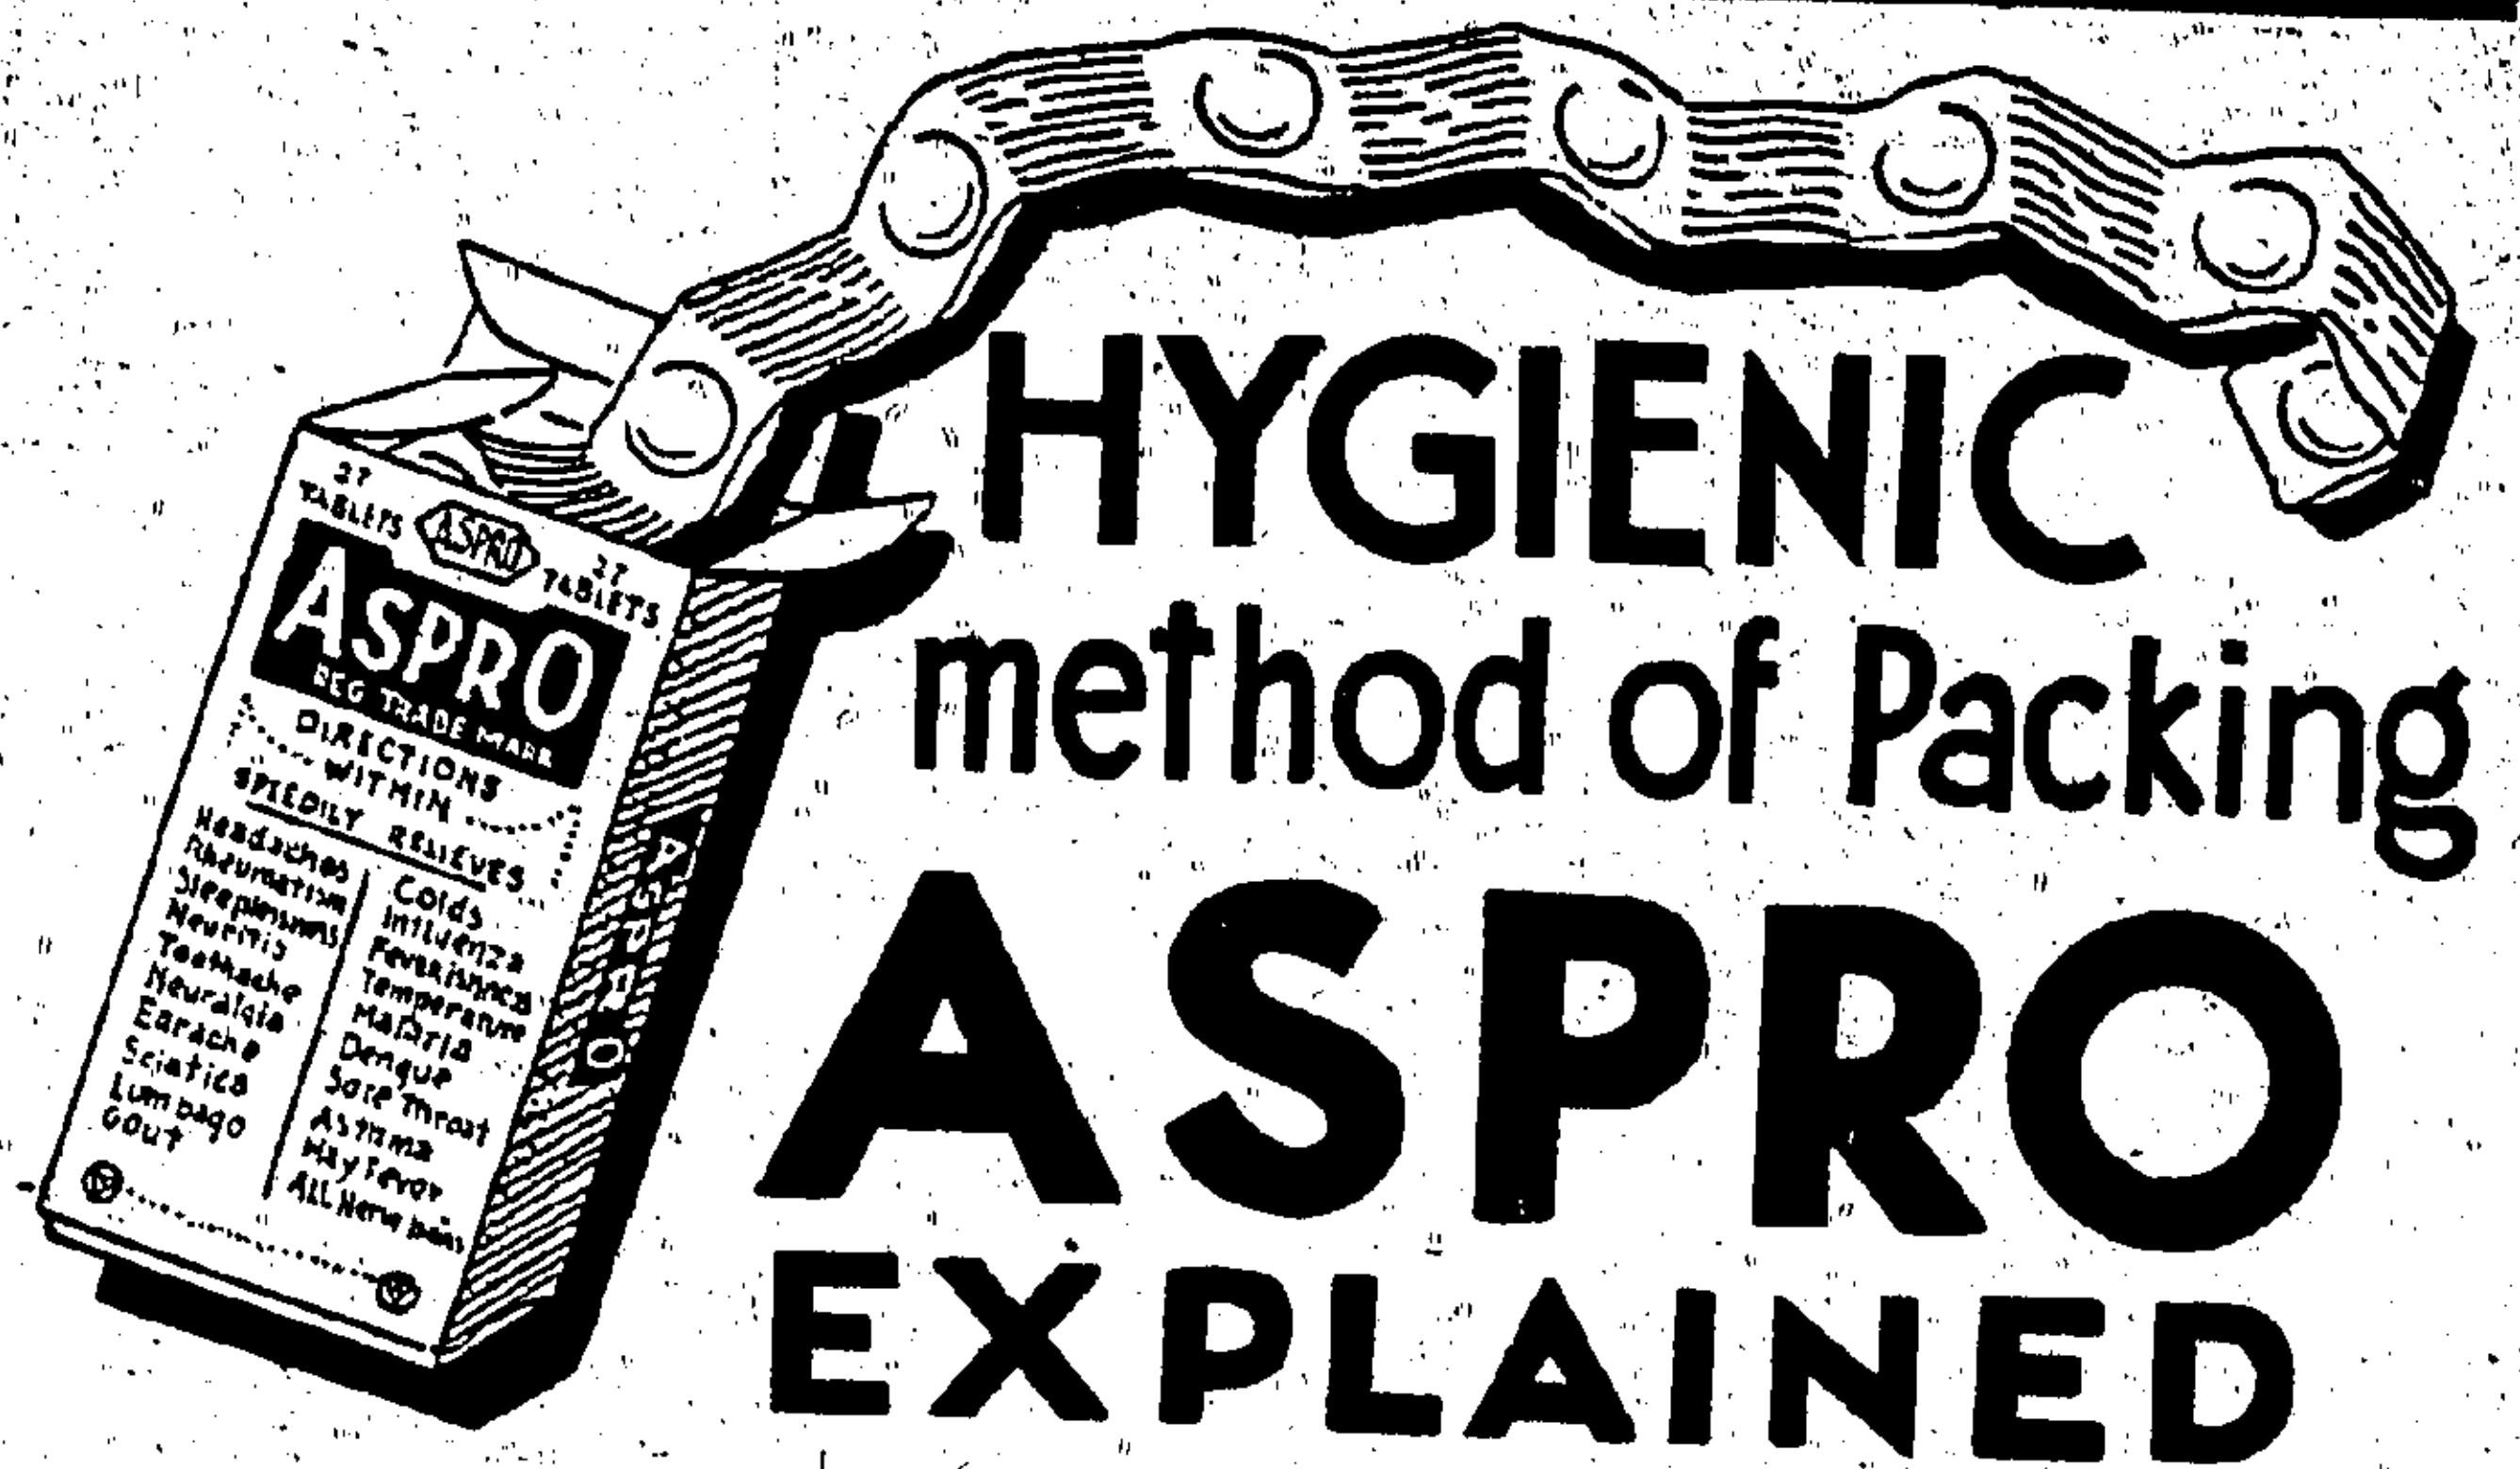

Add coconut to milk and let stand for one hour. Beat eggs with sugar and salt until very light. Add vanilla and milk and coconut. Turn into a pie dish lined with plain pastry and bake forty minutes in a moderate oven.

THE COCKTAIL HOUR

BABY FINGERS

We really don't know who named this one, or why. But we have a good idea that the name is appropriate enough. And if you think sloe gin means Slow, you're mistaken, lady. Many a stubborn grouch whose forehead creased a curstone, changed his mind after several "Baby Fingers."

One part Plymouth gin, two parts Sloe Gin, three dashes Calamity or any other bitters. Shake with ice until cold.

HYGIENIC method of Packing ASPRO EXPLAINED

PLANT

THE 'SANTAPE' METHOD EXPLAINED.

The plant, consists of the most up-to-date and efficient mechanical apparatus, including a number of 'SANTAPE' machines, which seal the tablets hygienically in specially prepared wax paper compartments.

This system is known as the modern 'HYGIENIC' 'SANTAPE' method of packing; and because of its thoroughly protective properties, ensures that 'ASPRO' retains its original high standard of purity. This should serve to commend 'ASPRO' to all who appreciate the absolute necessity of purity in medicine.

The wonderful human-like 'SANTAPE' machines are one of the most ingenious and highly-developed engineering triumphs of modern times. The machines wrap the tablets with unerring regularity in waxed paper, divide the paper into separate compartments, crimp each compartment so that no air can find access to the tablet, fold the tapes, and finally pass them through sprays of paraffin wax, effectively sealing the 'SANTAPE', and rendering the tablets proof against damp, moisture and any form of contamination.

ELIMINATION OF HANDLING
The 'SANTAPE' method of packing has a distinct advantage over the crude and obsolete system of hand packing. At no time during the process of manufacturing, compressing and packing, do 'ASPRO' Tablets come in contact with the human hand, therefore, contamination from this source is entirely prevented. The tablets reaching the consumer in the same perfect hygienic state as when they left the tabletting machines.

'ASPRO' BRINGS SWEET SLEEP TO THE SLEEPLESS

There are many thousands of people who now have sweet peaceful sleep, who hitherto hardly knew the meaning of a period of restfulness. 'ASPRO' has brought about the transformation by its sweet soothing influence on the nerves, and breaking up of local feverish conditions. Two tablets before retiring is the usual dose.

PROCESS.

The production of Acetyl-Salicylic Acid in its really purest form is a difficult and expensive process, requiring the services of highly skilled chemists. The cruder forms of this product contain free Salicylic Acid, which is expressly forbidden in the standards laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia, the guiding authority of the Medical Profession. The unskilled tablet maker may start with a pure drug, but by lack of the latest knowledge may turn out tablets containing free Salicylic Acid, liberated during the processes necessary to prepare the powder for compression. We make the following positive claim for 'ASPRO' tablets. THEY ARE MADE FROM BRITISH MANUFACTURED ACETYL-SALICYLIC ACID, FREE FROM ANY TRACE OF FREE SALICYLIC ACID AND CONFORMING TO THE TESTS OF ALL KNOWN AUTHORITIES. THE TABLETS ARE MADE BY PROCESSES WHICH ENSURE THAT THEY ARE OF THE HIGHEST STANDARD OF PURITY AS THE ORIGINAL DRUG, AND CONTAIN NO TRACE OF FREE SALICYLIC ACID. NO CHALK, TALC OR OTHER MINERAL IS USED AS AN EXCIPIENT, WHICH IN 'ASPRO' TABLETS IS A HIGHLY REFINED FOOD PRODUCT.

HOW TO TAKE 'ASPRO' FOR COLDS & FLU

'ASPRO' makes positive, definite and clear claims that it will relieve an Influenza or Cold attack in one night and it proves it. You can prevent 'Flu' by taking 2 'ASPRO' Tablets at the first sign of a cold, and 2 tablets every three hours afterwards until the symptoms disappear; a hot lemon or whisky drink to be taken with the last dose before going to bed. It is advisable when taking 'ASPRO' for Influenza and Colds to keep the body warmly clad in order to prevent chill. The value of 'ASPRO' for Influenza was proved in Australia when the Pneumonic Influenza Plague ravaged the country, and the Federal Parliament proclaimed 'ASPRO' a necessary Commodity in the public interest.

SPANISH CHICKEN

Cut up a young chicken as for frying. Put in a kettle that can be closely covered and add:

One can mushrooms (without juice) or fresh mushrooms, 1 can peas (with juice), 1 can tomatoes, 1 sweet pepper (fat fine), a little red pepper, salt, pepper and plenty of butter.

Bake for one and a half hours at 350 degrees.

CLAMS IN PATTY CASES MAKE LUNCHEON DISH

Canned minced clams make a delicious luncheon dish and can be creamed, served in patty cases, timbale cases as pictured here or over buttered toast if the timbale cases are not available.

Upon opening the canned clams, drain them, reserving the liquor. Following is a delicious mixture to use in the Timbale cases:

MINCED CLAMS IN TIMBALE CASES

3 tablespoon butter,
3 tablespoon flour,
2 cups liquid, clam liquid and

1 teaspoon salt,
1 teaspoon white pepper,
2 teaspoon sherry cooking wine

Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, liquid and seasonings, and cook until thick and creamy in the top of a double boiler. When as thick as desired, add minced clams which have been drained and just before filling the timbale cases stir in the sherry cooking wine. Garnish for serving with chopped parsley and paprika.

TRY CHOCOLATE

Gingerbread with chocolate icing makes a good dessert, served with the coffee. It is a welcome change from the whipped cream, gingerbread combination.

PLAIN PUMPKIN PIE

One cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup light brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon baking molasses, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, 2 cups rich milk.

Mix and sift flour, spices and salt and add to sugar. Mix and stir into pumpkin. Add molasses and egg slightly beaten with milk. Turn into a pie dish lined with plain pastry and bake one hour. The oven should be hot, 425 degrees F., when the pie is put in. At the end of ten minutes reduce heat to 350 degrees F. This rule will fill an eight-inch pie pan.

FLUFFY PUMPKIN PIE

This pie is more "partified" and you may prefer it for guests.

Use three-fourths cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 cup cream, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Beat yolks of eggs with sugar, salt and spices. Add pumpkin and mix thoroughly. Add milk and cream and stir until blended. Fold in white of eggs beaten until stiff. Turn into a pie dish lined with pastry and bake as in preceding recipe.

If you use canned pumpkin cook it over a low fire until perfectly dry.

SALMON PIQUANT SANDWICHES

Combine the drained contents of 1/16 oz. can of salmon, 1 tablespoon evaporated horseradish (soaked for 5 minutes in 2 teaspoons cold water), 4 tablespoon mayonnaise salad dressing and 1 teaspoon salt. Spread between buttered slices of white bread with a leaf of crisp lettuce. This is also delicious when toasted.

KIDDING THE KIDDIES

If there are children in the family, and they object to soup, serve it in cups instead of soup plates. The youngsters will believe that they aren't receiving as large an amount as they would in a regulation soup plate, and are more likely to eat it.

NEW DRESSLER-BEERY FILM

"Tugboat Annie"

"Tugboat Annie," the Marie Dressler-Wallace Beery picture, is the current sensation of the American film world.

The stars of "Min and Bill" are once again at the top of their form, and it is not surprising that in America "Tugboat Annie" has been even more popular than its predecessor.

The mixture, ripe and fruity, is much the same—robust humour, any amount of wholesome sentiment, a good strong melodramatic climax, and, above all, skilful character-drawing.

"Tugboat Annie" is based on a series of popular stories in an American magazine, and I understand that these in turn were taken from life. The heroine is a middle-aged tugboat woman whose drunken scallywag of a husband leaves her to do all the work.

Done by anybody else the picture might have degenerated into a welter of clowning and sentimentality. But these two stars—not in their first youth—are not at the top of the film tree for nothing.

COMEDY AND TEARS.

They know (and Mervyn Le Roy, the director, knows) exactly when a tearful episode must be relieved by a slap on the jaw; and so "Tugboat Annie" remains a first-rate bit of broad popular comedy, with passages that will move all but the extra hard-boiled to the verge of tears.

Especially remarkable is the vitality shown by Miss Dressler. The 62-year-old star, sick though she is reported to be, climbs ladders, fights her way through waves, and generally reveals the spirit of a girl of 20.

FILM STAR AND HER FRIEND HELD UP

Passport Trouble After Rush Trip To Britain

Miss Greta Nissen, the Norwegian film star, and a woman friend who sailed for Europe at a moment's notice were held up by immigration officials when they reached Southampton from New York, while efforts were made on their behalf to overcome passport and other difficulties that had arisen and to enable them officially to land in this country.

Mrs. Huston, the film star's friend, who is the daughter-in-law of Mr. Walter Huston, the film actor, was not only without a passport but she had no baggage. She went on board the liner Bremen at New York to bid farewell to Miss Nissen, and suddenly decided to make the trip also.

WITHOUT WARDROBE.

There was no time to make any arrangements for the voyage, and she sailed without wardrobe or papers. Miss Nissen was able to lend her some clothes during the voyage.

When the two women arrived at Southampton yesterday they were interviewed by immigration officials. It is understood that Miss Nissen had no labour permit to enable her to work in this country, although she wishes to make a film in Britain.

While attempts were being made to straighten things out the boat train left for Waterloo.

LEE TRACY AS "SHYSTER LAWYER"

"The Nuisance" —

To-day at the Queen's

Lee Tracy, who has played reporters, columnists, fast-talking majors and other fascinating characters, comes now to the screen as an ambulance-chasing shyster lawyer and makes laughs romance and thrills out of an amazing legal racket. Tracy's newest appearance is in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Nuisance," which comes to-day to the Queen's Theatre.

The whimsical hero of quick moving drama exposes the inside of the damage claims racket in the new picture. There are hilarious sequences in a great skating rink, thrilling street car and auto accidents and dramatic courtroom episodes. Tracy, as the shyster, outwits a traction company, ties up a city's traffic and engages in other sanguinary adventures, and even marries the feminine private detective sent out to deliver him into the toils of the Bar Association.

JACK CONWAY DIRECTS

Jack Conway, of "Hell Below" fame, directed the new production, with an elaborate cast. Madge Evans plays the pretty girl detective, Frank Morgan is the quack doctor who aids the lawyer in manufacturing evidence for damage suits against the street car company, and Charles Butterworth, John Miljan, Virginia Cherrill, David Landau, Grete Meyer, Herman Bing, Samuel Hinds and Syd Saylor have prominent roles in the fast moving story.

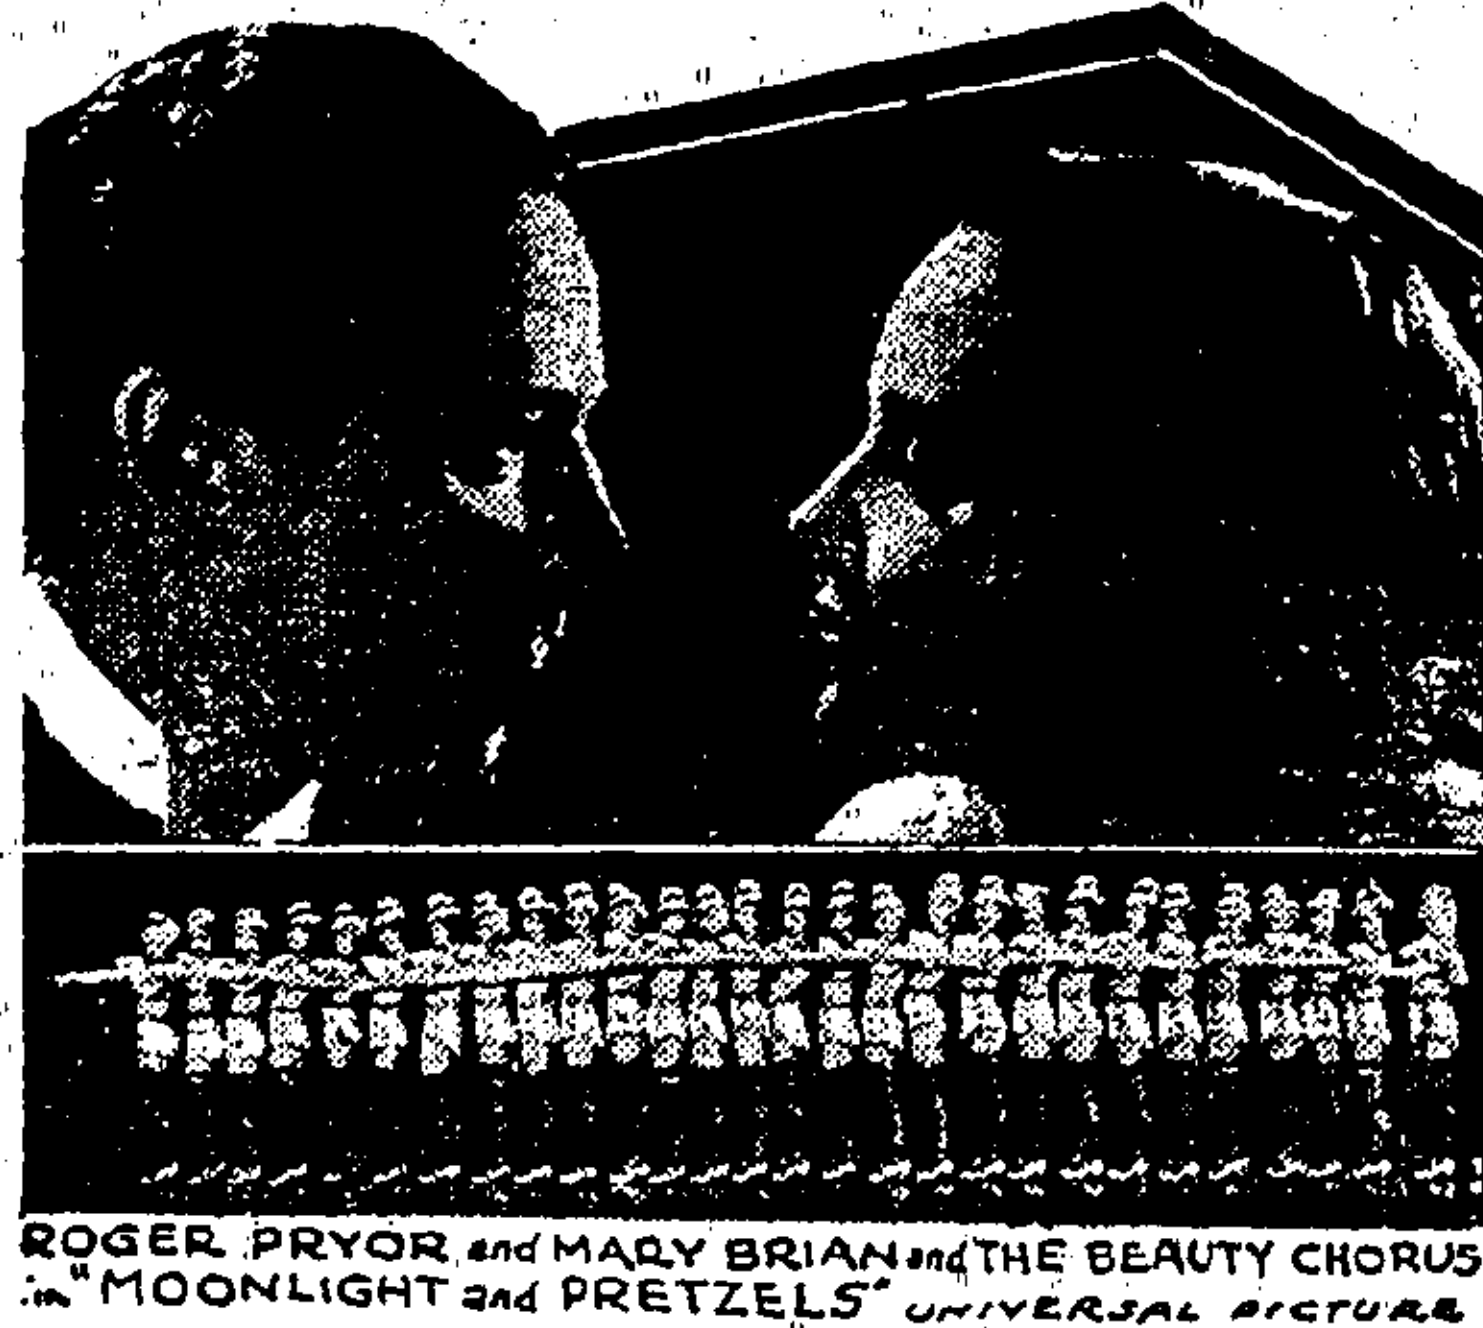

"One of the major thrills in the picture is the amazing frame-up of the street car company president, staged by Tracy to get his sweetheart out of jail. A screaming funny sequence is provided in the medical examination of Herman Bing, and the halting of the bus service because the bus drivers weren't vaccinated. Hundreds appear in the more elaborate sequences of the picture. "Tracy's first since "Clear All Wires."

MISS DOROTHY GISH

Not To Return To Films.

Miss Dorothy Gish, the actress, who arrived at Plymouth from New York on her way to the Continent for a holiday, which will include a visit to England, stated that she did not intend to return to film work.

"I left films for the theatre five years ago and am quite happy," she added. "The theatre is having a big struggle in competition with the talking films, but I believe that it will survive. There is certainly a big demand in America now for good British plays and two that are running there are doing well."

"HALLELUJAH, I'M A TRAMP"

Al Jolson now knows how it feels to be tried by a kangaroo court. The vagabonds' tribunal sequence, one of the most spectacular phases of Jolson's United Artists comedy, "Hallelujah, I'm a Tramp!" which comes to the King's Theatre on Sunday next, was filmed and recorded to the accompaniment of a forty-piece symphony orchestra, with hundreds of supporting players on the set.

The scene was made in an interior-exterior, a setting of real trees and grass that matches the Central Park atmosphere filmed during the past few months on locations near Hollywood.

"Why did you break your engagement to Tom?"
"He deceived me. He told me he was a liver and kidney specialist, and I found out that he only worked in a butcher's shop."

A LADY FOR A DAY

Worth It, Says
"Apple Annie"

Special Air-Mail Service

New York, Sept. 26.
Mrs. Nellie McCarthy, a London-born apple vendor, living a garret in New York, from which she is threatened with eviction, has just enjoyed the most thrilling day of her life.

"Apple Annie," as they call her, is 73, and her little apple stall stands under the fire escape at the exit of the Astor Theatre.

But just for a day she has been a real lady, all in the cause of film publicity, it is almost needless to say.

Columbia Pictures has made a talkie called "A Lady For a Day," to which George Atkinson refers. They took her out in a limousine to make a tour of the shops.

"Fluff my hair a bit," she told the operator in the hairdressing saloon of New York most famous coiffeur.

ROUGE TABOO.

"I don't want to look too severe, and no rouge."

"Apple Annie" was next seen in a society, manicurists and then in a fashionable dressmakers for an outfit.

She took luncheon at a fashionable restaurant, was welcomed at the City Hall and took tea at a Park Avenue rendezvous.

Tired and happy, "Apple Annie" spent the night in a suite at the Waldorf and made a fairish breakfast on honeydew melon, eggs, toast and coffee.

And now she is back at her apple stall, still not knowing whether the notice to quit will be followed by eviction.

Her day's outing cost the film company about £100.

"Apple Annie" at least believes it was worth it.

"KING KONG"

Showing at King's

The possibility of an ape yearning for companionship of a woman whose fragile golden beauty has stirred it to a never-before experienced emotion of protective tenderness, is given a modern interpretation in RKO-Radio Pictures, "King Kong," now showing at the Central Theatre.

Far Wray plays the girl whose champion, greatly to her dismay and terror, is a gigantic anthropoid, fifty feet tall and perhaps seven million years old.

"King Kong" captures Miss Wray in the jungle and, instead of destroying her as he does almost the entire group of explorers with her, he preserves her life and treats her with a clumsy sort of tenderness, despite the fact that he could crush her between his thumb and forefinger. Finally, in the climax of the picture, he attempts to devastate New York City in a misguided, blundering effort to assist her.

ECHOES OF 1859

20.—Government's Treatment of Detained Witnesses

March 18, 1859.

We conscientiously submit to our readers that nothing which has yet happened in Hongkong can more succinctly and fully demonstrate the utter inefficiency, the disregard to appearances, and the incapacity for governing, of the present administration of the Colony, than a review of this Mastiff case, from beginning to end—and this, be it particularly observed, does not apply to one occasion not to one department, but to a series of improprieties, not accidental but designed, reflecting the utmost discredit upon each department of government implicated, involving ultimately the execution of an innocent man under circumstances, most dreadful to contemplate.

To begin at the beginning. When six of the crew of the Mastiff were apprehended on a charge of murder, the remainder of the crew, or the greater portion of them, were detained in jail as witnesses. It is a high handed measure to deprive a man of his liberty in order to obtain his testimony in a case which does not in the least interest him. We freely admit however the necessity of the measure under the circumstances in this Colony. If it were not done, the ends of justice would be continually frustrated; but still the liberty of a witness so situated as sacrificed to the good of society, and it surely becomes the bounden duty of the State to alleviate the inconveniences inseparably connected with a residence in jail as much as possible, as well as to extend full and ample compensation for the time lost, and annoyance caused. These are such reasonable propositions that we feel sure there cannot be two opinions about them. Applying them to the case in point, let us see what was done with the crew of the Mastiff who were detained as witnesses. Why, they were placed in close confinement, in the debtor's prison, and put on malefactor's fare! The governor of the Jail was exposed, with on the subject. It appeared he had already represented the matter to the Colonial Secretary, and will it be believed, that it was not until some time afterwards, when we believe that Justices had taken the matter up, that the Governor of the Jail was authorised to give the men double Jail Rations. A plain admission that the allowance previously given was scanty, so as to form from its smallness, a punishment. Surely, man-of-war rations might have been accorded them under such circumstances.

The next glaring irregularity was the refusal on the part of government to grant the prisoners means to obtain a legal defence. Never was there a case in which it was required. The evidence was essentially circumstantial and very contradictory. Yet, Sir John Bowring who had spent thousands in defending an administration in which his imbecile hands had become notorious for its wickedness and corruption—who had spent hundreds in persecuting those who were sufficiently bold to denounce such wickedness and corruption actually refused to grant these destitute men the means to defend their lives. Alas for Rule Britannia, God save the Queen, Magna Charta, Flat Justice, rust coelum, and all the other empty huzzings ejaculations that we poor Britishers are made the sport of. If this be not driving the emblem of mercy from the attribute of justice—if this be not the powerful let loose on the helpless—the rich, in the shape of Queen Victoria, oppressing three destitute ignorant seamen, and one of them a foreigner too—we should like to know what is—Oh, but our readers may say, "the rascals showed no mercy to the boy they murdered, and they were merely being paid off in their own coin." We beg to say, that one of the principles of the British law is, that a man shall be considered innocent until he be found guilty. Furthermore, the very fact of government prejudging this case in the manner we submit they did, necessarily prejudiced the accused on the eyes of the Jury—it must have done so.

2 VALUED INDIAN OFFICIALS

Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe's Tribute At Farewell Party Held Yesterday

Mr. Bishen Singh of the Education Department, and Sirdar Sahib Mohinder Singh, Assistant Superintendent of Police, who are both leaving the Colony on retirement to-morrow, were guests of honour at a tea-party given by members of the Indian Company, Hong Kong Police Reserve, at Lane, Crawford's Restaurant last evening, when the Inspector General of Police, the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, presided. There were present Mr. Justice Lindsell, Mr. T. H. King, Deputy I. G. P., Messrs. N. L. Smith, D. V. Booth, C. G. Perdue, A. R. Sutherland, W. L. Handyside, T. Murphy, D. L. King, Chief Detective Inspector R. Marks, Messrs. Abbas Khan, M. Akbar, M. A. Khan, M. Abdullah, Hardit Singh and the Hon. Mr. S. T. So.

Mr. Feroz Ali, officer commanding the Indian Company, in welcoming the guests said that they had gathered to bid farewell and wish God-speed and all happiness in the future to Mr. Bishen Singh and Sirdar Sahib Mohinder Singh who were about to leave on a well-earned retirement.

He wanted to express the appreciation of the Indian Company for all they had done, and when they sailed they will be watched by a host of friends with mingled feelings—joy at their retirement and sorrow at losing two such staunch friends.

Mr. Ali went on to say that Mr. Bishen Singh had done much for the Indian community in the Education of Indian boys in Hong Kong. From 1908 to 1916 he was headmaster of the Anglo-Indian School and it was largely due to his efforts that the Ellis Kadoorie School for Indians, which was opened in 1919, came into existence.

So far as the Sirdar Sahib was concerned, Mr. Ali said that he too had done a lot in his quiet way and the loss that the Indian Company would sustain by their departure would be irreparable.

Mr. D. L. King and the Hon. Dr. S. W. T. So, for the interest they all took in his Company.

Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe
Mr. Wolfe then addressed the gathering briefly, and said that he wanted to second the remarks made by Mr. Ali about their departing friends.

So far as Mr. Bishen Singh was concerned, Mr. Wolfe said that he had done yeoman service for the Indian Company. "It is by no means easy to keep men even after you have got them," said Mr. Wolfe, "When new movements of this kind is started, enthusiasm is sure to be keen but it soon dwindles. First of all we have large numbers but as time goes on, this falls off. The Indian Company started in rather a small way, but it grew steadily and now they have a very useful Company who could render excellent service should they be called upon."

Regular And Reserve
Mr. D. L. King, the Deputy Superintendent of Police (Reserve), said that it seemed the Regulars and the Reserve were fated to share each other's sorrows, for at a former occasion, he had attended a function to say farewell to Mr. Sirdar Khan of the Reserves and Khan Sahib Nawab Khan, A.S.P. He went on to say that he did not want to detain the gathering, but if both or either of the guests felt the call of Hong Kong too hard to resist, he assured them of a very hearty welcome, and he himself would guarantee that Mr. Bishen Singh would come into service with the Police Reserve again!

Mr. Bishen Singh was obviously touched by the occasion when he rose to reply on behalf of Mr. Mohinder Singh and himself. He said that they had come out together in October 1899, and they started their service here as police constables. While he drifted to the education department, Mr. Mohinder Singh remained with the Police. Mr. Bishen Singh said that when he was transferred, Mr. Wolfe was in the Education Office so that he regarded Mr. Wolfe as his chief.

The speaker said that he wanted to thank the Director of Education, Mr. N. L. Smith, for finding the time to attend the function and also all those who were present.

We much regret to hear that Mr. S. F. Ho, son of Mr. Ho Kom-tong, is at present a patient at the Canossa Hospital. Mr. Ho was removed to this hospital from his home yesterday. Prior to going into the Canossa Institute the patient has been ill for a week or so at his own home. With his host of local friends we wish him a speedy recovery.

A SUCCESSFUL TEST

Franki Piles On New Site

BUILDING DEVELOPMENT AT CAUSEWAY BAY

The first stage in the erection of a block of modern European-type flats at Causeway Bay for the Metropolitan Land Company, Ltd., was concluded yesterday when the test on the piled foundations driven by the Hong Kong Engineering and Construction Company for the Metropolitan Land Company was completed.

Those who witnessed the test included the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga (Managing Director), Mr. Horace Kadoorie representing "Sir Ely Kadoorie, K.B.E. (Director), the Hon. Mr. A. G. W. Tickle, Director of Public Works, Mr. C. B. Robertson, Building Authority, Mr. W. A. H. Duff (Hong Kong Branch Manager, Messrs. Metropolitan Land Co.), Mr. E. H. H. Hingham of Messrs. Davies, Brooke and Grant (Architects for the Metropolitan Land Co.), Mr. L. W. Amps of Messrs. Logan and Amps (Construction Managers for the new Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank Building), and Mr. H. Braga, Engineer Hong Kong Engineering and Construction Co., Ltd. Mr. J. Scott Harston, Director, was unavoidably absent.

The building (a block of eight four-storied houses) is to be carried on 184 Franki Piles driven by the Hong Kong Engineering and Construction Co., Ltd., who are the sole licensees for China for this system of piling. The piles vary in length from 15 ft. to a maximum of 27 ft. depending on the loads they are to carry and the nature of the ground through which they are driven. Old residents of the Colony might recall that the site is on an old reclamation and at one time was occupied by the Hong Kong Jockey Club stables. We are given to understand that had it been necessary the piles could have been driven to a depth of 55 ft.

The tested pile was chosen at random by the Architects and is one of those carrying a maximum working load of 92 tons. The Engineer for the Construction Co. guaranteed that the settlement for one and a half times this load would not exceed one-quarter of an inch. Actually, there was no settlement when the Architects took the readings when the pile was loaded with 150 tons. Settlement did not commence until 180 tons had been stacked up on the specially designed platform constructed on the pile head to carry the load. This settlement did not exceed one-sixteenth of an inch. This amazingly high load on a single concrete pile is unique in the annals of building construction in the Colony.

The Hong Kong Engineering and Construction Co. have been operating this system of piling for over 10 years and during that period have driven a few thousands of piles throughout the Colony.

Interviewed by our representative, Mr. Hingham said he was both surprised and pleased at the result of the test. When he was at Rangoon, Mr. Hingham said he found that the piles had a maximum loading capacity of 25 tons but put in Hong Kong, the capacity was up 100 tons.

THE HEALTH OF THE COLONY

BAFFLING PROBLEMS OF EPIDEMICS

Dr. Wellington On The Need For Constant Vigilance

The Report of the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services (Dr. A. R. Wellington) for 1932 gives a full and interesting review of the measures in force for the cure and prevention of disease in the Colony. Emphasis is laid on the overcrowding, the poverty and ignorance with which medical officials have to deal, and no effort is made to conceal the fact that medical service is still baffled by the coming and going of serious epidemics, particularly plague, cholera, and small-pox.

The report states:

Though the educated Chinese appreciate the value of Western medicine the bulk of the population still pin their faith to the old fashioned Chinese decoctions and, when ill, seek advice from one or other of the many empiricists or herbalists who practise in the Colony. A number of those who enter the Government Hospitals do so only after they have made full trial of Chinese Medicines and when their disease is well advanced.

Year by year, however, the value of Western medicine becomes more and more appreciated.

Judging from the death returns the health of the Colony was not so good as in the previous year. The crude death rate was 25.02 per mille as compared with 24.39 the rate for 1931.

Respiratory diseases accounted for 43.05 per cent. of the total death, the percentage for 1931 being 42.25.

The principal diseases causing death were broncho-pneumonia, pulmonary tuberculosis, bronchitis, pneumonia, infantile diarrhoea and diarrhoea.

The overcrowded houses combined with the expectorating habits of the Chinese furnish sufficient explanation for the prevalence of respiratory troubles.

Malaria.

It would seem also that here as in Malaya the danger areas are not the large swamps and paddy fields remote from the hills, but collection of water within half a mile of the latter.

The cases admitted to Government Hospitals numbered 465 of which 13 or 2.8 per cent died. In the Chinese Hospitals there were 943 admissions, of which 187 or 19.8 per cent died.

The total number of deaths attributed to malaria was 455, giving a death rate of 0.56 per mille for the Colony.

Notifiable Diseases.

The notifiable diseases are plague, cholera, small-pox, yellow fever, typhus fever, cerebro-spinal fever, enteric fever, para-typhoid fever, relapsing fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, puerperal fever and rabies (human and animal).

Tuberculosis.

Pulmonary tuberculosis ranks second to broncho-pneumonia as the principal cause of death. The total number of deaths was 2,042, that for 1931 being 1,983. The death rate per mille was 2.52 as compared with 2.60 for the previous year. Pulmonary tuberculosis in the majority of cases is a disease which unites the individual for the active exercise of his employment months or even years before death supervenes. Because of the tendency of those unable to work and earn a living to leave Hong Kong for their villages in China the deaths reported form an incomplete index of the prevalence of the disease.

The number of cases of disease is unknown but reckoning 10 for each death the total comes to over 20,000.

There is no sanatorium or home for the case of those who have contracted infection and the victims continued to struggle against their affliction under conditions which leave little hope for recovery.

Leprosy.

Though leprosy is a notifiable disease very few cases are ever notified and the number of cases in the Colony is still a matter of conjecture. Assuming the rate of incidence in the neighbouring country to be at least one per mille population, the number of lepers in Hong Kong and the New Territories cannot be less than 500. Lepers who are not British subjects are prohibited from entering the Colony and any such who find entrance may be deported.

Notifiable Infectious Diseases.

The number of cases of infectious disease notified during the year and those notified in 1931 were:

	1932	1931
Bubonic plague	0	0
Small-pox	212	15
Diphtheria	205	231
Enteric	202	214
Cerebro-spinal fever	207	25
Puerperal fever	7	19

Small-pox.

Every year during the winter months this disease manifests in outbreaks which are sometimes epidemic and sometimes sporadic to disappear with the advent of summer.

During the year 248 cases were reported of which 129 were notified after death had occurred. The total number of deaths was 175. Allowing for a case death rate of 25 per cent. for all ages in this well vaccinated Colony the real number of cases was 175 x 4 or 700. The true figure then 64.5 per cent. of the cases evaded discovery and went through the various

FAMILY OF KIDNAPPERS

Outwitted by a Small Girl

How a seven-year old Chinese girl after having been kidnapped and taken to Llama Island from Shauiwan, subsequently managed to make a report to the Police, which resulted in the arrest of her captors was related to Mr. W. Schofield and Mr. S. J. Balfour at the Central Magistracy yesterday when three Chinese, a husband and wife and their daughter were charged with kidnapping and harbouring the girl.

After the case had been concluded, their Worship sentenced the daughter to two years' hard labour, and the husband and wife to one year each.

The girl Ng Oi San, told the Court that she and her parents lived at No. 33, Main Street, Shauiwan. The first defendant, the daughter, was a fellow lodger. On September 5 while she was on her way to buy something to eat, the first defendant accosted her and asked her to go for a tram ride. They rode for a long time and stopped at a place which she did not know. The next thing was that she was put on board a sailing boat which brought her to Yeung Shu War (Llama Island). The first defendant did not accompany her. She was handed over to the second defendant, the mother, before the boat sailed.

At this stage the second defendant who looked ill, showed signs of fainting; whereupon Mr. Schofield asked her to sit down.

When they reached Llama Island the second defendant made her do such work as boiling pig wash and washing clothes. She slept in third defendant's hut and they called her Chan Tai, which was not her own name. On one occasion the third defendant beat her with a bamboo stick for taking too much time in washing the clothes. On September 28, while she was out washing clothes, she managed to slip away to the Yeung Shu Police Station where she made a report.

Cross-examined by the first defendant, witness admitted that she told her that she preferred to stay at the place in Llama as there was a lot of fruit to eat.

Evidence was then given by a Chinese detective who stated that on the night of October 1, accompanied by Inspector Logan he went to No. 256 Main Street and there arrested the first defendant. The following day the first defendant took him and Detective Sergeant Fowle to Chung Sing Lane, West Point, where the second and third defendants were taken into custody.

The mother of the girl testified that she adopted the child last year. When she missed her daughter she mentioned it to the first defendant who pretended to cry.

The defendants were then sentenced as stated.

COST OF HEALTH SERVICES

Twelve Per Cent Of Colony's Revenue

The Director of Medical and Sanitary Services in his report on the expenditure of his Department in 1932 states:

Because of the overlapping which occurs when a work serves both a utilitarian and a sanitary service it is impossible to assess exactly the amounts which have been spent for purely medical and sanitary purposes. Including all water works and draining works as sanitary works the following (which include the salaries of the P.W.D. staff concerned) shows the commitments as laid down in the Estimates for 1932.

Medical Department	$1,666,815
Sanitary Department	1,183,784
Public Works
Department	1,250,000
Police Department	2,300
Subsidies to Charities	175,792
Total	$4,278,601

The ratio of expenditure on Medical and Sanitary Services to total revenue is 12.59 per cent. If the expenditure on Water Works be not taken into account the ratio is 10.87 per cent.

port of ambulance cases.

The Railway Authorities did all in their power to assist and co-operate with the Health Authorities to the fullest extent.

Taking all circumstances into consideration one can only say Hong Kong was lucky to escape so lightly.

Enteric.

The number of cases reported was 202 as compared with 214 for the previous year. All the cases were sporadic and as is usual in such the source of infection could not be traced. There is no evidence that any cases contracted the disease through the public water supply.

HEALTH AND SUPERSTITION

Influence of Traditional Beliefs

The report of the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services for the year 1932 states:

The traditional beliefs of the uneducated Chinese as to the cause of diseases, the means of spread and the factors which affect its course are so at variance with modern teaching that there is little chance of promoting voluntary co-operation between them and the authorities in the matter of the prevention and control of disease until they can be brought to understand the true nature of the problems and are conscious of the usefulness of the measures advo-

POPULATION OF HONG KONG

About 98 Per Cent Are Chinese

The Director of Medical and Sanitary Services in his report for 1932, gives the following Vital Statistics of the Civil Population:

The estimated civil population for the whole of the territories under British jurisdiction at the middle of the year was 900,812, of which 880,812 or 97.73 per cent. was Chinese and 20,000 or 2.27 per cent. non-Chinese. The distribution was as follows:

Urban area of Victoria:
Europeans and Americans	4,000
Other non-Chinese races	5,500
Chinese	364,279
	373,779

Villages of Hong Kong:
Europeans and Americans	300
Non-Chinese other than Europeans	100
Chinese	43,513
	43,913

Total for Hong Kong Island	417,692
----------------------------	---------

Urban Area of Kowloon including New Kowloon:
Europeans and Americans	4,480
Other non-Chinese races	5,600
Chinese	273,244
	283,324

Total for Kowloon and New Kowloon:	283,324
Junks and Sampans:	100,000
New Territories exclusive of New Kowloon:
Europeans and Americans	20
Chinese	99,776
	99,796

Total civil population	900,812
------------------------	---------

During the year 2,368,340 persons entered and 2,392,340 left the Colony by river steamer and by railroad, making a surplus of emigrants over immigrants by these routes of 24,000. Fuller details are as follows:

	Arrived	Departed
River steamer	1,545,162	1,688,431
Land going	823,178	723,909
Ocean going	608,918	435,109
Total	2,975,258	2,847,449

INFANTILE MORTALITY IN HONG KONG.

Very High Figure

The Director of Medical and Sanitary Services in his report for 1932 states that the numbers of deaths of infants under one year were:

Chinese	6,916
Non-Chinese	38

If the figures for the Chinese births registered represented the total births, which they do not, the infantile mortality rate for this race would be 526.23 per thousand as compared with 617.42 which was the equally incorrect rate for the previous year. Allowing that only one third of the births are registered this would still mean a very high infantile mortality figure.

The mortality rate among the non-Chinese was 97.93 as compared with 61.85 in 1931.

The proximity of China and the constant intercourse make it harder to overcome prejudices than is the case in countries further afield. The greatest hope lies in propaganda and education brought to the homes through public health nurses working as district visitors or in infant welfare centres and school welfare centres.

HONG KONG, OCTOBER 12, 1933.

VIRTUOUS INDIGNATION

Tokyo is full of indignation at the publishing by the Tass Agency of documents alleged to be signed by General Hishikari, the Japanese High Commissioner of Manchuria. These papers are said to prove: 1. That the Manchukuo Government is Japan's puppet. 2. That Japan is prepared to seize the Chinese Eastern Railway. The War Office at Tokyo speaks of sterner action. The Foreign Office admits similar sentiments, but awaits the proper reports from Moscow. A patriotic newspaper urges the closing of the Tass Agency, and also of the Tokyo negotiations for the sale of the Railway.

Virtuous indignation is an old weapon of diplomacy which politics has borrowed. It is a pity that those who use it do not realise its effect on the ordinary man. The educated see through it and are irritated, but the unthinking masses can be worked to a pitch of fury often strong enough to take the course of action out of the hands of those alone fit to guide it. When the diplomatic game was played in secret, formal protests and many such manoeuvres gained time, and often opened up new avenues of negotiation and compromise. Nobody gave the sentiments expressed more value than is attached to the elaborate courtesies, and self-deprecations of the East. We all know perfectly well that Powers spy on each other's defences, that when naval and military rivalry is keen technical experts get to work circumventing the spirit of such armament limitations as cannot be openly flouted without more trouble and loss of face than such action is worth. Long before August, 1914 every soldier knew that Belgium would be invaded in the event of a European War.

since a whole system of railways was obviously built to that end. There is, in fact, much to be said for that old way of conducting statecraft in secret, the experts engaged knowing how to interpret the words and acts of their adversaries. Though not yet practicable a blunt laying of the cards face upwards on the table has much to recommend it, but the present compromise, of working up popular anger over the perfectly normal and natural words and actions of the secret peace-conflicts between nations is full of danger.

Does any student of politics imagine that Manchukuo is anything but the instrument of Japan? Manchuria is Japan's protectorate, and, especially when such a status has been refused formal acknowledgment, the "protecting" power has of necessity to keep its own adherents in office and see that the word of its own High Commissioner, or whatever he may be called, prevails without prevarication. As to the alleged designs on the Chinese Eastern Railway, how naïvely the patriotic paper in Tokyo confirms the Soviet allegations. The amiable suggestion is that the negotiations for the sale of the Railway be closed! But since Japan is the one that wants to buy, would not that be a complete surrender, leaving open this tremendous avenue of Russian influence in Manchuria? The status quo would suit Russia admirably, but hardly Japan! What action does the journal in question suggest? Taken in conjunction with the sterner words of the War Office, the answer is self-evident.

If Russia were not prepared to surrender the Railway she would have refused to enter into the Tokyo negotiations, except to gain time to get reinforcements out East. But if that were the case Japan would have struck suddenly. That is Japan's method; she would not have waited till Russia's position had been strengthened. The only reason for delay in such a situation might have been settling points at issue with possible allies or antagonists, but if Japan and Russia like to knock their heads together, no other nation is the least likely to intervene. If, on the other hand, Japan was afraid of Russia she would hardly have been as provocative as in the last few weeks. Japan, whatever her faults may be does not rely on sheer bluff. The Japanese General Staff must know whether it really intends to fight for the Chinese Eastern Railway, but as long as the plebs is kept in the dark, either retreat or advance is possible; but when appeal is made to the mob, then mob has an awkward habit of getting out of hand, and forcing the issue. The probable outcome will be a purchase by Japan, but if the Moscow and Tokyo Governments rouse the passions of their respective peoples, by protestations of self-righteousness, they will hamper freedom of action and lessen their control of the issue of peace or war.

WORLD-ARMAMENT RACE

Wakatsuki's Warning To Japan

Tokyo, October 11.
Warning his hearers that the failure of the Naval Conference in 1935 would precipitate a new Japanese-American armament race disastrous to Japan, Baron Wakatsuki, chief delegate at the London Conference in 1930, and President of the Minseito party addressing a Minseito rally at Nagoya, raised the first authoritative voice in the past two years in defence of the London Treaty. He expressed the conviction that the acceptance of the Treaty, though admittedly imperfect, served the Empire's best interests.

The speech is significant as it is the first reply to the bitter denunciation by the Inukai assassins at the recent Naval Court-Martial.

GEN. JOHNSON'S WARNING

To Industry And Labour

Washington, October 11.
A warning to the minority of both industry and labour, who he said, were threatening the recovery enterprise, was given by General Johnson in an address to the Convention of the American Federation of Labour.

Organised American labour he was of the opinion was being subjected to a crucial test. Strikes were unnecessary and public opinion would turn and destroy subversive influences if labour allowed the present economic sabotage to continue.

Cautioning the delegates against Wall Street reports that the N. R. A. movement was failing and rising wages had increased costs, thereby reducing consumption, Gen. Johnson stated: Let these financial gentry answer the fundamental question: How could business be re-activated without giving mass purchasing power which is most necessary for mass production? You cannot squeeze blood from a turnip, declared Gen. Johnson, who concluded by recommending that there be some leash to hold the great powers in industry and labour in check.—Reuter.

"UNFREEZING" OF U.S. ASSETS

Roosevelt in Awkward Position

Washington, October 11.
Mr. Roosevelt who has projected a big financial corporation is hanging fire, owing to legal and technical differences as to whether the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or the Treasury should be provided with the necessary funds.

A meeting of the Governors of Reserve Banks has favoured finance by the Treasury. The Corporation would be capitalised with $1,500,000,000 designed to unfreeze assets on closed banks.

Professors Rogers and Warren, both members of the Brain Trust recently returned from Europe, are advising the President on the currency issue. Prof. Rogers advises against devaluation without international accord, while Prof. Warren is championing a commodity or an index dollar.—Reuter.

"DOUBLE TENTH" AT CANTON

Banquet At Naval Club

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, October 11.
In commemorating the Double Tenth anniversary, Dr. Kan Chieh Hou, Inspector General of Foreign Affairs for Five South-west Provinces, and Mrs. Kan, gave a banquet at the Naval Club last night followed by a dance.

Among the many guests present were the entire consular body and their wives, British and American naval officers, Mr. J. Klubien, Commissioner of Customs, and Mr. Nordstrom, the Postal Commissioner. Distinguished Chinese guests were Rear-Admiral Y. C. Kiang, Commandant of the Whampoa Cruiser Squadron, Rear-Admiral Chang Chi Ying, Senior Naval Officer of the Canton River Patrol, Captain Liu Yung Ho, Commandant of the Whampoa Naval Academy, Mayor Liu Chi Wen, Colonel Chow Pao Hang, Superintendent of Customs, and others.

Dr. Kan proposed a toast to the Republic of China. Dr. W. Wagner, German Consul General, who is the senior consul in Canton, proposed a toast to Dr. and Mrs. Kan, and thanked them for their invitation.

The dining hall of the Naval Club was suitably decorated for the occasion. With excellent autumn weather and good music supplied by the Lingnan University orchestra, the guests thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment and the dance that followed.

RE CANTONESE LESSONS BY RADIO.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

Sir,—Being a Chinese young man from Peiping recently arrived in Hong Kong, I was much interested to read in your correspondence column the letter by "E.E.S." on the above subject. I am writing to say that I, for one, shall be very pleased to listen to Cantonese lessons over the radio, having heard of Dr. Wells' mastery teaching of the Cantonese dialect. I have bought a copy of "Cantonese for Everyone," revised and enlarged edition, written by Dr. H. R. Wells. I am studying it with deep interest and find it very helpful to me.—Yours, etc.,

DISARMAMENT PROBLEM

Atmosphere Now More Friendly

Geneva, Oct. 10.
An important and unexpected development in the disarmament position occurred to-night, although the prospects have not been distinctly improved, except as showing a more friendly atmosphere.

Herr Nadolny, the chief German delegate, called upon the French Foreign Secretary, M. Paul Boncour, and was closeted with him for about ninety minutes, during which their rival standpoints were discussed from every angle.

Herr Nadolny was markedly conciliatory. He expressed the sincere desire of his government to reach a solution of the disarmament question, but they were compelled to take the stand that the convention must be such that Germany could freely accept, and carry out.

The whole tone of Herr Nadolny's approach was friendly, but M. Paul Boncour emphasised that France was unable to make concessions on the fundamental points.—Reuter.

SIR JOHN SIMON OFF TO GENEVA

London, October 10.
The Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, left Croydon, by air, for Paris this afternoon, and is proceeding to Geneva by to-night's train. Before leaving London he received the German Ambassador, Doctor Von Hoersch.

Sir John Simon had originally intended to proceed to Geneva last week-end, but delayed his departure to be present at yesterday's Cabinet meeting, when the latest developments in the Disarmament situation, including the German "observations," communicated last week, were considered.—British Wireless.

MUSSOLINI'S NEW ARMS PLAN

Diminished Prestige Of League Of Nations

Rome, October 5.
A new formula for a disarmament convention has been drawn up by the Italian Premier, Signor Benito Mussolini, in the hope of reconciling the opposing views which threaten to disrupt the forthcoming Geneva Disarmament Conference. This information is contained in an article by Signor Mussolini in "Popolo d'Italia." After calling attention to the existing difficulties and pointing to the greatly diminished prestige of the League of Nations since Japan's withdrawal, the Italian Premier comes to the conclusion that there is still a possibility of attaining some tangible results if mutual distrust and misunderstandings are removed.—Trans-Ocean Kuo Min.

London, October 5.
The "Daily Mail" in to-day's issue strongly advocates an increase of the British air force to a level which would enable England again to assume the role of arbitrator in world peace.

In this connection, the paper emphatically rejects the reduction of air force, as proposed at Geneva, and asserts that the number of commercial aeroplanes in Great Britain has now dropped to the fourth place behind the United States, which has upward of 10,000 aeroplanes, France with 1,821, and Germany with 1,200 commercial machines, not to mention the Soviet Union, which possesses 10,000 planes and is building 100 new ones every month.—Trans-Ocean Kuo Min.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Mr. W. A. O'Neill, a member of Reuter's staff in China, is shortly to marry Miss Margaret Kirkbride, of Stonycroft, Liverpool. Mr. O'Neill is coming later to Hong Kong from Shanghai to take the place of Mr. J. E. Henry in the local office.

Dr. Levintoff after graduating in Geneva, worked for 5 years in the clinics of Geneva and Lausanne. Besides this he has done research work on cancer and especially cancer of the skin. Dr. Levintoff is the brother of the well-known local pianist, Julius Levintoff, of the Hong Kong University.

The Entertainments Committee of the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home are glad to announce that Mr. G. W. E. True will be present with his "Cheero" Band at a number of dances for members this season. The first of these is to take place on Monday, October 16, at 8.30 p.m. at the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home, and tickets may be purchased now from the secretary. As there is every reason to believe that these dances will be as popular as they were last season, patrons are advised to secure their tickets early.

POLICE ACTION DISMISSED

Sequel To Funeral Ceremonial

MR. M. K. LO'S PROTEST

"I doubt if the summonses can be sustained on the facts put forward. Precautions were certainly taken to prevent the bonfire being a danger. As for the musical instruments, they appeared to have been reasonably performed, and the obstruction is admittedly not serious I think, however, that defendant would be well advised to maintain care whenever he does make such a bonfire," remarked Mr. Schofield at Central Magistracy yesterday in dismissing three summonses against Mr. Lee Cheung Hing of Cause Road arising out of obsequies conducted for the defendant's wife.

The summonses were that the defendant had made a bonfire to the danger of the public; had allowed musical instruments to be played without permission of the S.C.A. and had caused an obstruction by setting out a large quantity of joss material on the roadway or footpath.

Mr. M. K. Lo, defending, said that the name Lee Cheung Hing was only the name of the business, the defendant actually being a rent collector.

"In this case," he said, "My instructions are that these summonses should not have been issued at all, and it seems to be a very regrettable exercise of discretion on the part of the police authorities."

"I don't believe there will be any dispute as to the facts. Mr. Lee Cheung Hing was a very well-known Chinese in the Colony. His wife died recently, and as that night was what was called the third week after death, there was a distinct ceremony to be performed. The joss sticks were burnt inside two iron structures, which had been hired from the Tung Wah Hospital. About ten people were in charge. The music played was religious, from which all noisy sounds were excluded. "We have been acting for the family for years, and directly the summons was served, sent a representative to the S.C.A. in order to see about permission being given. (Continued on Page 12.)

STRIKE MENACE
IN AMERICA*Continues To Hamper Recovery

Washington, Oct. 10. Conflicts between workers and employers, the continuance of strikes all over the country, continue to hinder progress towards recovery.

Thousands of steel and coal strikers in the Pittsburgh area returned to work to-day, but there are still thirty-five thousand miners refusing to return to work in Western Pennsylvania.

Coal strikes continue to create serious problems for Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Alabama.

SILK STRIKE
Meanwhile, silk strikers from New Jersey and Pennsylvania are protesting vigorously against the wage provided in the Silk Industry Code, and ten thousand automobile and tool, and die strikers have protested to the N.R.A. alleging that their employers are deliberately violating the Recovery Act.

The possibility of the National Recovery Administration regulating all wages soon is now envisaged.
A suggestion that this solution of difficulties be studied with a view to adoption was made by Senator Wagner, in the course of an appeal to the National Federation of Labour to persuade its members to arbitrate before striking.

CONSUMERS' BOARD
The Consumers' Board has decided to create local branches to prevent profiteering and has also appealed to Mr. Ickes, the Secretary of the Interior Department to postpone the plans for fixing the price of oil because it is contended the consumers' petroleum bill will be increased at the rate of $500,000,000 per annum, while the wages of oil employees will not be increased under the Code by more than $125,000,000.—Reuter.

TENSION TIGHTENS*WILL JAPAN BE "JOCKEYED" INTO WAR

Tokyo, October 11. The Foreign Office is awaiting a full report from the Japanese Ambassador to Moscow, Mr. Ota, before deciding the course of action to take in regard to the Moscow revelations. Before action is taken, however, the War Office and possibly the Cabinet, will be consulted.

"BOASTING AND BELLICOSE" ARTICLE

A Foreign Office spokesman to-day recalled the recent "boasting and bellicose" article in the Soviet press which led him to the belief that the Soviet was possibly trying to "jockey Japan into war. He added: "As both brave dogs and coward dogs bark a lot, we must await developments before deciding which the Soviet is."

It is reliably learnt that the Soviet has refused to continue the Railway negotiations here until the arrested Chinese Eastern Railway officials have been released.

Meanwhile the Tass correspondent here is being examined this afternoon in order to decide whether he should be expelled.—Reuter.

M. Litvinov, Russia's Foreign Minister.

CONDITIONS ALTERED

Washington, Oct. 10. Following the war debt conversations to-day, Mr. Acheson revealed that Sir Frederick Leith-Ross urged the radically altered world economic conditions, unforeseen when the settlement was made, as justification for the reduction of Britain's obligations. No suggestion was advanced regarding the amount Britain had in mind to offer as a basis of settlement.

INTERNATIONAL MOTOR SHOW*Fine Exhibits At Olympia

London, Oct. 10. The International Motor Show which will open at Olympia on Thursday and which will continue for ten days, is attracting large numbers of visitors to London from abroad.

Undoubtedly the main feature of the show is the adoption at least by practically all the British models of simplified gear mechanism. Six years ago, the self-change pre-selective device was pioneered by a British firm and this has set a fashion which has, in varying forms, been adopted by all the leading manufacturers.

Drivers of new models are thus relieved of all mechanical anxiety and an important contribution is thereby made to road safety.

The respective numbers of cars and chassis on view will be Britain 205, Canada and the United States 34, France 33, Italy 14, Belgium 4, and Czechoslovakia 3. The prices of the models range from £105 to £3,540.—British Wireless.

A lecture on "The Settlement of International Debt" will be delivered by Mr. Gustilo, M.Sc. (Com.) on Friday, 13th October, at 8.30 p.m. in Room K of the University. All interested are welcome.

garding the amount Britain had in mind to offer as a basis of settlement.

The British delegate asserted that the United States tariff wall had interfered with payments in goods thus limiting the scope in which transfers could be made. The negotiations will be resumed to-morrow.—Reuter.

S.W. POLITICAL COUNCIL*Many Subjects Discussed

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Oct. 11. The regular meeting of the South-west Political Council was held this morning immediately after the service at the Chungshan Memorial Hall to commemorate the escape of Dr. Sun Yat Sen from the Chinese Legation in London on October 11, 1896 after detention as a revolutionary by the then Chinese Minister.

Among the subjects discussed to-day were the recent $100,000,000 domestic loan floated by the Ministry of Finance, financial support to General Fang Chen Wu and Wang Teh Lin and construction schemes according to the Three-Year Plan. It is understood that Kwangtung will ask Nanking for a certain share of the proceeds from the American wheat and cotton loan for the reconstruction of the province.

Mr. Huang Chi Lu (Wong Kwai Luk), a reserve member of the Kuomintang C.E.C., was appointed member of the South-west Political Council. President Chow Lu of Sun Yat Sen University recently secured Mr. Huang's services as professor of journalism, because he is a well-known literary scholar and former editor of the official "Man Kwok Yat Po."

A graduate of the University of California, Mr. Huang has had long connection with the Kwangtung Provincial Kuomintang and wrote illuminating editorials in his daily on Canton-Nanking relations during the Kuomintang C.E.C. in extraordinary session here in 1931. Mr. Huang returned to Canton some time ago after a protracted stay in Shanghai.

THE TAIMOSHANArrives Safely At Vancouver

The "Taimoshan" arrived at Vancouver on September 12, after a rather tedious journey from Japan. Shortly after leaving Nemuro (Japan), she ran into the tail end of a typhoon. The Taimoshan was hoisted to 20 hours behaving very well in reefed mizzen and foresail a back.

On leaving Dutch Harbour, it was intended to make the trip to the West Coast of Alaska. They left in a moderate South East gale, but shortly afterwards the wind fell right away and they were becalmed. Plans were then altered and the course set direct for Victoria (B.C.) With the wind then making, Taimoshan logged better than 850 miles in the next five days when they were again becalmed and on one day, was actually carried back three miles. They eventually arrived in Vancouver on September 12. The ship and crew are in fine condition.

FIGHTING IN TURKESTAN*Turkic Leader
Wounded

New Delhi, Oct. 11. Severe fighting between Tungs and Turkic forces in Chinese Turkistan has resulted in heavy losses on both sides.

A determined attack was launched on the New City, Kashgar, by the Turkic forces on Sept. 28, during which their leader Tem Fik Bey was wounded.

Tung's troops are at present holding the city under Ma Chan Tsang.
Yark and the New City are believed to be still held by Turkic troops, although the Old City is reported to be held by a large force of Khotan troops.—Reuter.

CHIMNEY FIRECall From Ko Shing Street

An alarm of fire was received at the Central Fire Station shortly after 10 p.m. last night from No. 66, Ko Shing Street.

S. AMERICAN
PACT*New Anti-War Treaty

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 10. A new anti-war treaty which is hoped will serve to stabilise conditions in South America has been drawn up and signed by the leading States of Central and South America.

The anti-war treaty outlaws aggression and the forcible acquisition of territory.

It was signed at Rio to-day by the representatives of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Paraguay and Uruguay in the presence of many diplomats and notabilities.

The only notable absentee from the list of signatories is Bolivia, even now engaged in a dispute with Paraguay (a signatory) regarding territorial rights, in the Gran Chaco.

Other South American States, Peru and Colombia among them, are expected to adhere to the Treaty shortly.—Reuter.

Sourabaya, Oct. 11. Sir Charles Kingsford Smith took off for Wyndham, the last leg of his flight from England to Australia at 4.55 a.m. local time.—Reuter.

PRESIDENT OF POLAND*Finds Romance After 65 Years

Warsaw, October 10. The President of Poland has discovered romance after 65 years.

He was married to-day to his secretary, Maria Dobranska, who earlier this year was divorced from her husband, Capt. Nagorna, by special Papal dispensation.

Large crowds turned out to see the wedding which was attended by the Prime Minister, M. Alexander Prystors, while Cardinal Kokowsky blessed the union.

Dr. Ignatius Moszicki, who will be 68 years of age in December and who has never married before, has been President of Poland since 1926, although he is still regarded very much in the light of an instrument in the hands of Marshal Pilsudski, the real ruler of Poland. He belongs to no political party. His interests are scientific, being an expert in electro-chemistry. He discovered the electrical process for the synthetic manufacture of nitrates and also devised a condenser which was valuable in the early days of wireless telegraphy.—Reuter.

FOOTBALL

With the exception of the defeat of the Club by the Royal Navy no surprises were registered at last week's matches. The Royal Artillery sustained their second defeat of the season by losing to Kowloon, and although the season has not yet gone very far, the Gunners have shown that they are a very different team from last year. Apart from Pardoe, Allan and Combe the players who did so well for them in the past have been called upon to fill their places have so far proved to be poor substitutes. Since the beginning of the season they have played two matches, and lost both to comparatively weak teams, and it would not be surprising therefore to see them drop from the position of runners-up last year to almost the bottom of the league.

By their display against the Club last week, it is evident that the Navy are making a strong bid for the championship this year, and with the absence of South China, last year's champions, it would not be surprising if they succeeded. Unfortunately their team depends largely on the movement of the fleet, but if they could field an eleven like that of last week for the rest of the season, it would take a lot to beat them. Despite the fact that the players were chosen from different ships, they have shown excellent understanding and co-operation, and they might have defeated the Club by a much bigger margin.

Great rivalry was shown in the match between St. Joseph's and the Recto which resulted in a win for the former by four goals to two. The match has been generally called the "Portuguese Derby" for most of the players of both teams are sons of Portugal. Several years ago, they played together under the colours of Recto which won the Championship. However, some of the players seemed to be dissatisfied, and the result was the breaking up of the team, some joining St. Joseph's and the others remaining in the old camp. Included in those who have changed their colours were the Gossano brothers, and, incidentally, it was they who were responsible for the defeat of their old team last Saturday.

That the Police have improved by leaps and bounds was evident by the hard fight they put up against the Lincolns who, however, just managed to beat them by two goals to one in the last minute of the game. A year ago, the soldiers would have won comfortably, but since then the Police have acquired several promising players and considerably strengthened the team.

Partly owing to the absence of their best players, who have gone up to Nanking for the National Meeting, the Chinese lost to the Non-Chinese by four goals to three in the Governor's Cup. As a matter of fact the Chinese team was entirely composed of players from the Chinese Athletics, including several reserves. However, the Non-Chinese also put up a comparatively weak team, the selectors apparently trying to make the match more even. Consequently play was not of a very standard, but the game was full of incidents. Once again the absence of the Police on the ground was felt when an unruly crowd, apparently annoyed by the referee awarding a doubtful goal to the Non-Chinese, got out of hand, going so far as to rush out to the ground. Fortunately Sergeant Whelan happened to be on the scene, and when his presence was known, the crowd quietened down.

An interesting point arose as to the fielding of a team by the Athletics. It will be remembered that when the competition was first started the Association arranged that it was to be a match between the Association eleven and a team from the Chinese Amateur Federation. However, the Athletics are not affiliated to the Federation, and the fact that the South China players have gone up to Nanking, put the Association in rather a muddle. A private meeting was held, and decided to alter the rules so that the match was one between the Chinese and Non-Chinese.

What a tremendous programme of sports fixtures has been carried out during the holidays! The interport swimming fixture with Shanghai has been concluded and the interport lawn bowls has been brought up to a very interesting stage. In addition to the regular football fixtures, the Governor's Cup was decided, and there were two days' racing thrown in. No wonder that attendance suffered at most of these fixtures, as the majority of sport-lovers had to divide their allegiance.

THE RACING

Dealing first with the racing, one thing which seems to have become well-established is the "Daily Double". The first doubles paid over $3,000 but on the second and third occasions the dividends were $224 and $117, which shows that the public is beginning to get wise as to how this game should be played. Quite a number of people cashed in on Partnership and the Goat on Monday. The pari-mutuel figures during the two days were quite tempting, and in some cases, considering the odds, the "bets" were generous to punters. The cash sweepstakes suffered by the small attendance, but on the whole the meeting was quite a success.

HOW AND WHEN TO WHIP

In several races jockeys were beaten in the last hundred yards or so of the race, for no other reason than that they did not know how (or even when) to apply the whip. In one race, a pony was running quite well and holding his own from a strong challenger on the outside, who although up to the leader's withers, was not gaining ground. With only fifty yards to go, the jockey on the rails applied the whip and promptly lost the slight advantage he had. In another case, in a fighting finish, two ponies came through from the back, one jockey riding with both hands while the other held his reins in one hand (the left) and applied the whip with his right, turning completely round, to do so. Need I say which of the two won? This habit of turning right round when whipping is very pronounced with some of our jockeys, and is a fault that cannot be too strongly denounced.

A NEWCOMER'S VIEWS

A friend of mine who has had a good deal of experience racing in other countries, writes the following after seeing the races here:—"In racing, a good big one is always better than a good small one but in the Katoomba Handicap, on Tuesday, some of the weights were crushing. Being a newcomer to the Happy Valley course, I was astonished that the weight for inches rule here is 3 pounds per inch. In India where possibly there is more pony racing than any other country in the world, the rule is 3 pounds per quarter inch.

A COMPARISON

"With this assumption, a comparison with the handicaps in the above race was that Evening Star, Lucy Glitters and The Rainbow were conceding 36 pounds, 42 pounds and 48 pounds to Ration and Tecumseh respectively. One does not mind a pony giving away a bit of weight but 42 to 48 pounds seem a bit hot. Furthermore there seems no reason why Walter ponies should run any differently in India to what they do in Hongkong. According to the Indian Jockey Club rules, the race was a sifter for Ration or Tecumseh, and Kilrea had to concede 7 pounds which of course was quite a reasonable weight. The result as it turned out was Ration first, Kilrea and Tecumseh second and third. It might be suggested that for thoroughbred Australians the Indian rule for measurement might be followed, but of course it becomes necessary to give ponies their exact measurement to a quarter of an inch. In India 14 hand ponies run in a different class to 14.2.

As regards China ponies it is difficult to say as they appear to be so secretive over their parentage.

LAWN BOWLS

All who take interest in lawn bowls will be glad that Shanghai won their match against Hongkong on Tuesday and thus stand on an equal footing with us in the final match. Luz, I thought played a marvellous game on Saturday, but there is no gainsaying the fact, and Luz will be the first to admit it, that he had all the luck on his side. In one head, Shanghai were lying four, when Luz with a driver removed all four shots and actually laid two. With the next word he drew the shot to lie "three". Now this is the sort of thing that backs a team up and at the same time it was a very disheartening effect over the victims. Shanghai, however, were never downhearted in the first match and right up to the last word, were optimistic as to their chances. They fought well and went down with flying colours, and those in the know felt certain that they would put up a good show in the second match.

THAT SECOND GAME

In the second game, Shanghai shuffled their team a little bit, and Bailey who had played No. 3 in the opening match was put in as No. 1. Lopes was taken out of the team and Malcolm put in as No. 2. Main who had played No. 2 before, skipped, and Richards was put up to No. 3. Bailey's exhibition against Civil Service when he played very well as No. 1 no doubt accounted for this re-shuffle. Holland who led Hongkong was never comfortable with Shanghai and although he played well on Tuesday it looked all the way as though Shanghai was going to emerge with flying colours. The last head was touch and go and with Hongkong lying the shot and the scores all level, Main rose to the occasion and justified his being selected as skip, coming along with a magnificent shot that gave the match to Shanghai. It was a masterly bit of play and it now remains to be seen whether Omar and his men can retain the interport trophy in Hongkong. The Shanghai men are playing well, but I pin my confidence on Omar.

THE SWIMMING INTERPORT

I never saw such support for a swimming gala as at the V.R.C. on Monday night, when despite a nasty drizzle which made things rather unpleasant, the accommodation at the clubhouse was packed to capacity. And what an exhibition of speed swimming was given! Shanghai won the interport, or to be more exact, Hadley won the interport, for Shanghai, for he won three races the 50, 100 and 220 and helped Shanghai materially to win the team race as well as the Madley Relay, in both of which Hongkong had a substantial lead until the last man jumped into the bath. There is nothing wrong with Hongkong's swimming, only they have no one to touch. Hadley in the shorter races and thus conceded many valuable points. Gittins in the 100 yards was obviously a mistake as he failed to collect a single point and I think, Remedios in the breast stroke would have resulted in a second place for Hongkong.

THE TEAM RACE

The whole of the interport series depended on the result of the team race, and the selectors, did not do too well G. J. Smith did not swim as he had done in the other night races, and could only hold his own against Shanghai's first man, whereas a lead would have proved invaluable. Gittins was no better and it was left to Boris to take a substantial lead, but not enough for Lawrence to stall off Hadley. Gittins' experience might have earned Hongkong the lead early on (Continued at foot of next column)

Craigengower Beat Shanghai

Excellent Display By Happy Valley Club

Playing excellent bowls at Happy Valley, Craigengower C.C. led all the way in their match against a team selected from the visiting Shanghai lawn bowls players.

Shanghai scored a single shot in the first head, and then Craigengower got the lead and led by 10-1 at the end of the seventh head. By the fifteenth head they increased that lead to 20-4, but a splendid recovery by Shanghai towards the end of the game, resulted in their putting on ten shots in four heads, and they ultimately finished six points in arrears, the final score being 21-15 against them.

BUCHANAN IN GREAT FORM

Lopes skipped for Shanghai with Remedios as his No. 3, while Richards and Main filled the first and second positions. The Craigengower side was represented by Buchanan, Cavanagh, Rumjahn and Basa (skip).

Buchanan played an excellent game in the early stages of the match and more than once had Richards tied up in knots. He was remarkably accurate with his woods and his touchers were of great assistance to the later players. Richards finding himself up against it, managed to draw a little behind the jack each time, so as to make his woods useful whenever the jack was moved, but in the first few heads, Buchanan was too good.

Main was a good No. 2 and his woods frequently counted, while on the other hand Cavanagh failed to exhibit his usual brilliancy. Main of course was playing out of his position and his accuracy as No. 2 did not prove of much value.

Rumjahn for Craigengower was a tower of strength for his skip, and often saved a difficult situation, while Remedios for Shanghai started shakily, and did not warm up to it until the game was hopelessly beyond their reach. Then he played splendidly and accounted for Shanghai's remarkable recovery.

Basa was a good skip for the home team, drawing and carrying the jack as circumstances required, with great accuracy, while Lopes also showed excellent judgment. Lopes was handicapped in that his work lay mainly in reducing the score against him, while Basa frequently had nothing more than an easy draw to increase the lead.

The detailed score given below will show how the game went. It will be noted that Shanghai only scored four singles in the first fifteen heads.

and Smith going in second (or possibly even Paget) might have made a big difference to the race. But, of course, it is easy to be wise after the event. However, the V.R.C. are to be congratulated upon the treat they provided the Colony and Shanghai for the manner in which they licked the V.R.C. on their home ground. I understand there was a very enjoyable gathering at the Interport, dinner on Tuesday night.

COURT MARTIAL ON A GUNNER

Scene At Kowloon
Pier

Gunter W. MacDonald, of the 20th Battery, R. A. appeared before a district Court Martial yesterday at Army Headquarters,
when he was charged with absenting himself without leave, from Stonecutters Island on October 1,
and two civil offences of assault.

MacDonald pleaded not guilty to all charges, but changed this to guilty after defending officer had cross-examined one of the witnesses.

The Court comprised Major H.M.
J. McIntyre, R.A., Capt. P. L.
Villar, S.W.B., and Lieut. C. C.
Garthwaite, R.A. The prosecuting
officer was Capt. R. H. Mould, R.
A., and the defending officer, Lieut.
F. H. V. Purcell, R.A.

The prosecuting officer stated that the charges arose from accused behaving in a drunken and disorderly manner. At about noon on October 1 he appeared in civilian clothes on Kowloon Pier arguing about the Walla-Walla fare to Stonecutters. He attracted a great deal of attention and an Indian constable arrived on the scene.

Accused, turned on a Chinese named Pang Cheung, striking him with his fist. He then seized him and held him by the coat which was eventually torn. The value of the coat was $4.

Two Indian constables intervened
and managed to get him to the Water Police Station. One of the constables, Meida Khan was struck by the accused. There was evidence that accused was drunk at
that time.

Prisoner stated that on the evening of September 30 he had been drinking Chinese wine in Hongkong about the accidents alleged against him.

The prosecuting officer: You say you remember nothing. I have called evidence to show that you caused damage to Pang Cheung's coat. Do you accept liability for that damage?—Prisoner: Yes.

After evidence as to defendant's character had been given, the Court reserved its decision for confirmation.

HOCKEY RESULTS

Mule Corps Win Mamak
Game

In their Mamak Tournament match with the Royal Corps of Signals yesterday at the Marina
Ground, the Hong Kong Mule
Corps won by the only goal scored.

Exchanges were very even
throughout the game, the sides
being equally matched, but early in the first half Mohammed Khan managed to break through and netted for his side. The Signals cried hard to equalise, but their forwards were held by the opposing defence and although their centre-forward nearly scored, halftime saw the score unchanged.

The second half was much the same, first one side then the other pressing, but neither team could score, but in the end the Mule Corps ran out winners of an evenly-contested game by 1-0.

Jats Beat Radio

Putting up an indifferent show,
the Radio Sports Club were defeated by four goals to nil in a friendly encounter with the Jats Regiment on the Marina ground yesterday. The Radio, who have been twice winners of the Mamak Tournament, were off form and were thoroughly beaten.

A Public Dispensary Wanted

TO RELIEVE HOSPITAL STAFF AND HELP CHINESE POPULATION

(From Our Special Correspondent)

In a conversation with a member of the Kowloon Residents' Association on Monday, I learnt that there are several improvements
which the Association are planning for the welfare of the Kowloon community in general, and the poorer classes in particular. One of the most pressing needs, it was pointed out, is a Public Dispensary in Central Kowloon where minor cases may be treated.

It appears that as things stand
at present, a lot of unnecessary work is heaped on to the already over-driven staff of the Kowloon Hospital, and although these people have not complained about it in any shape or form, one feels that a little would not only be very welcome, but that it would also allow them proper time to devote to the more urgent work.

There are a few public dispensaries in Hongkong and the good work done by them should warrant the opening of one, to begin with,
in Kowloon. Situated as the Hospital is, far away from central Kowloon, it is rather difficult at times to have to go up there to have a cut attended to, and medical men always led us that bad cuts, may prove to be rather serious if not given the proper treatment at once.

The question—and it is the same old question over and over again—
is, will the Government deem it
"advisable and expedient" to have such an institution opened at the earliest possible date? So far as I can see, there need be no difficulty regarding a suitable building for this purpose. There are numbers of houses along Nathan Road that may be rented for a fairly reasonable figure, and to begin with, a flat ought to serve the purposes. Of course, as time goes on, there must needs be an extension, but for the present we will not concern ourselves with this.

Not so long ago, the military authorities opened the Indian Child Welfare Clinic at a site near the Kowloon Cricket Club bowling green, and although it is barely a couple of months old, reports to hand indicate that it is very much used. Even grown up Indian boys
(I mean those who are about 10-15 years old) go and have their little troubles such as cuts and boils attended to, and they seem to appreciate what is done for them. As a result of this, they learn the value of keeping clear and the same lesson may be taught the Chinese boys of the poorer classes if there was somebody to teach them, and I cannot think of a better place than a Public Dispensary.

There is no hiding of the fact that Kowloon urgently needs a public dispensary, and as it for the good of the community as a whole and not only one particular section, let us hope that this step will be taken at an early date.

CURE FOR FRECKLES

Vendor's Breach Of Poison Act

The sale of a preparation "for the removal of freckles," by the Sino-German Dispensary of 3A, Wing Lock Street, resulted in the appearance on a summons, before Mr. Schofield of Mr. Chong Yat-fan, manager of the Dispensary.

The preparation was alleged to contain 65.4% of carbolic acid, which the authorities regarded as a poison without a proper wrapper for selling poison without being authorised to do so and for selling a position without a proper wrapper.

Becoming A Practitioner

Mr. H. K. Holmes, Crown Solicitor prosecuted, and Mr. D. L.
Strellett appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Holmes said one of the reasons for the case was that there was an increasing tendency for certain drugs to be sold in Hongkong, and the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services considered it essential to stop this from becoming a practice.

Mr. Strellett—My friend's remarks do not stand against my client. They represent nothing more than a tendency, and this matter being brought to their notice they will give an assurance
it will not be repeated.

From Shanghai

These are a series of patent medicines which have been sent down from Shanghai to various firms, who are selling them. In this particular case the cure to be effected is for the removal of freckles. The public are warned to use it only for the purpose indicated, and not to attempt to bring any portion of it near the mouth.

nose or eyes, or take it in any manner other than indicated.

Mr. Schofield—There is no distinct warning that it is a poison
in the ordinary sense of the word.
Mr. Strellett—I ask your Worship to deal with this as a matter for warning. I can give this undertaking that the defendants are in a perfectly legitimate business, and will not deal in this class of goods again.

Mr. Schofield—I think under the circumstances a nominal fine will meet the case, as this is a case which we do not get frequently in Court.
Fine $10 on each summons.

CLASSIFICATION OF PONIES

U.S. WHEAT EXPORT SUBSIDY

Agreement Signed by Mr. Wallace

Washington, Oct. 10. Mr. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has signed the Wheat Marketing agreement, subsidizing the export of about 35,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat from the North-West States.

The export of the cereal will start almost immediately—Reuter.

THE SHANGHAI MARKETS

Raising of Government's Ban On Export Foodstuffs Likely

Shanghai, October 7. Deporable conditions are recorded in the Shanghai flour market, holders of flour having incurred serious losses. It is reported that the Government, in an endeavour to alleviate matters, may lift the embargo on exports of foodstuffs, which might lead to part of the wheat still in public godowns being re-exported.
